Thoughts on the Gospel (Matthew 9:36-10:8)

The Gospel today reveals the compassionate heart of Jesus and His mission for the world. When He saw the people burdened and searching for hope, He was moved with deep compassion. He called His disciples, empowered them, and sent them out to continue His work of healing, encouraging, and proclaiming God's Kingdom. This reminds us that every Christian is not only loved by God but also called to share that love with others. Jesus teaches us that compassion must become action. He didn't simply notice people's pain — He responded. Today, many still carry hidden burdens: loneliness, stress, fear, financial struggles, and spiritual emptiness. God invites us to see others with His eyes and to become instruments of His care.

The disciples were ordinary people, yet God entrusted them with an extraordinary mission. We may feel unqualified, but God empowers those who are willing. When we offer Him our hearts and hands, He can work through us in powerful ways. This Gospel also highlights the importance of prayer. Prayer opens our eyes to opportunities to show kindness and prepares our hearts to respond. Every believer can bring healing — through a kind word, a listening ear, forgiveness, generosity, or simple acts of love. What we freely receive from God, we are called to freely give. Each day presents a mission field: our homes, workplaces, schools, and communities. We don't need to go far to serve God. We simply need willing hearts. Like the first disciples, we are called to be bearers of hope, channels of healing, and witnesses of God's love.

A simple way to remember this Gospel is the word SEND:

S – See with compassion the needs around you.

E – Empower others through encouragement and kindness.

N – Nurture a life of prayer and trust in God.

D – Deliver hope through words and actions.
