27Ú MEÁN FÓMHAIR 2026 – AN SÉÚ DOMHNACH FICHEAD – A

Reflection

In today's Gospel we find the two sons, each doing the opposite to what they declare; while Jesus tells us that tax collectors and prostitutes paid attention to John the Baptist and they changed too. There is plenty of common ground between those bible figures and our own fickle behaviour.

One day we can be full of fervour and keen to profess our Christian faith, come what may. The next we can't pray. We ask where is the God of yesterday? Does he exist at all? Is all our time wasted? Those who reject belief, faith, Church, religion and moral responsibility continue life as contented, apparently, as everyone else. Many of them were our classmates with whom we received our First Holy Communion and Confirmation. They don't darken the door of the Church anymore. They changed their minds! Of all the gifts given to us by God, the freedom of choice is perhaps the greatest. We're not pre-determined beings; our choices are sacred and are literally our making, our doing and un-doing. When we respond positively to God's grace as also reflected in the best and noblest inspirations and aspirations of our environment, we're shaping ourselves more firmly in the image and likeness of God our Creator. Part of the challenge of our day is to ignore the choices made by others and content ourselves with our own good choices which uplift, and determine a better tomorrow for ourselves and society.

14th anniversary Mass

Our physical life is wrapped around the pursuit of comfort, wealth, pleasure and acceptance, distracting us from pursuing a long-lasting relationship with God, through prayer, kindness, humility, taking ownership of our mistakes and doing something to correct it. Taking up our cross is a call to do away with all that the body and mind seeks or desires and embracing the struggles and sufferings with Christ.

Thoughts on the Readings for the 20th September 2026

Undoubtedly, a major theme running through the whole of the Old and New Testaments is that of 'justice'. God is wholly just and we are called, both individually and corporately, to lives of justice also. The question, of course, is what do we mean by justice? What does the Scripture mean by justice? What is the justice of God? Some of the answers to these questions can be found in today's Gospel passage. Reading this passage may call for some adjustment in our normal ways of thinking. And this is just what the First Reading from Isaiah prepares us for: For my thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways my ways, says the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts.

Growing in Christ means a constant shifting of our conventional ways of thinking and sometimes the adjustments do not come easily. To have the mind of Christ means, like him, to 'empty' ourselves. In our case, to empty ourselves of many of the convictions we take for granted. Today's Gospel is the parable of the workers in the vineyard, or rather, the hiring of workers for a vineyard. The parable is linked with the passage immediately preceding. It is important to note that the divisions of our Scriptures into chapters and verses were not done by the original writers. Sometimes these divisions are quite arbitrary and create unnatural breaks in the text. Because today's passage begins a new chapter, we are inclined to overlook its relationship to what has gone just before in the previous chapter. To better understand context, it's always useful when reading a Gospel passage to look both behind and ahead of the listed verses.

Glenfin Area Council - Monthly Draw 2026/27

The Glenfin Area Council would like to express their sincere appreciation for your ongoing support of local initiatives. Your support is greatly valued.

Proceeds from this year's monthly draw will be dedicated to the development of Independent Living Accommodation for seniors adjacent to Ionad Pobail Gleann Fhinne.

In the coming weeks, volunteers will be visiting homes to provide information and selling lines in the new Monthly Draw for 2026/27. The monthly prize fund totals €1,000, with a first prize of €500 and five additional prizes of €100 each. Additionally, there will be a special bonus draw in December, featuring ten €100 prizes.

Please support this Draw. This project was very much at the heart of John Gallagher.

We must all do our best now to fulfil his worthy dream that will benefit all elderly people.
