On behalf of the parishioners, welcome to the Parish of Abbeyside, Ballinroad and Garranbane website. Since I took up my appointment here I am continually discovering the wealth of human and natural qualities in this parish. I look forward to us getting to know each other more and more as time passes and our paths continue to cross. I hope to both lead and learn as we all falter and fumble to follow in the footsteps of Jesus, the most perfect human being ever. It is my hope, that as we grow deeper into our humanity, both in its pleasant and painful aspects, we like Jesus will become gradually more aware of our spiritual capacity and identity. Let's together grow into God, our Creator and Energiser, and into each other as part of God's cosmic community; and let's allow God to grow into us, melting and moulding us in love and joy, peace and justice, awe and wonder. Welcome!

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING (Prov 31:10-13.19-20.30-31)

A reading from the book of Proverbs.
A perfect wife – who can find her?
She is far beyond the price of pearls.
Her husband's heart has confidence in her,
from her he will derive no little profit.
Advantage and not hurt she brings him
all the days of her life.
She is always busy with wool and with flax,
she does her work with eager hands.
She sets her hands to the distaff,
her fingers grasp the spindle.
She holds out her hand to the poor,
she opens her arms to the needy.
Charm is deceitful, and beauty empty;
the woman who is wise is the one to praise.
Give her a share in what her hands have worked for,
and let her works tell her praises at the city gates.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM (Ps 127:1-5)

℟ O blessed are those who fear the Lord.

1. O blessed are those who fear the Lord and walk in his ways!
By the labour of your hands you shall eat.
You will be happy and prosper. ℟
2. Your wife like a fruitful vine in the heart of your house;
your children like shoots of the olive,
around your table. ℟
3. Indeed thus shall be blessed the man who fears the Lord.
May the Lord bless you from Zion
in a happy Jerusalem
all the days of your life. ℟

SECOND READING (1 Thess 5:1-6)

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Thessalonians.

You will not be expecting us to write anything to you, brothers, about 'times and seasons', since you know very well that the Day of the Lord is going to come like a thief in the night. It is when people are saying, 'How quiet and peaceful it is' that the worst suddenly happens, as suddenly as labour pains come on a pregnant woman; and there will be no way for anybody to evade it.

But it is not as if you live in the dark, my brothers, for that Day to overtake you like a thief. No, you are all sons of light and sons of the day: we do not belong to the night or to darkness, so we should not go on sleeping, as everyone else does, but stay wide awake and sober.

The word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION (Apoc 2:10)

Alleluia, alleluia!
Even if you have to die, says the Lord,
keep faithful, and I will give you the crown of life.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL (Mt 25:14-30)

(For Shorter Form, read between ♦ ♦).

The Lord be with you. And with your spirit.

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew. Glory to you, O Lord.

♦Jesus spoke this parable to his disciples: 'The kingdom of heaven is like a man on his way abroad who summoned his servants and entrusted his property to them. To one he gave five talents, to another two, to a third one; each in proportion to his ability. Then he set out.♦

The man who had received the five talents promptly went and traded with them and made five more. The man who had received two made two more in the same way. But the man who had received one went off and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money.

♦Now a long time after, the master of those servants came back and went through his accounts with them. The man who had received the five talents came forward bringing five more. "Sir," he said, "you entrusted me with five talents; here are five more that I have made." ♦

His master said to him, "Well done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness." Next the man with the two talents came forward. "Sir," he said, "you entrusted me with two talents; here are two more that I have made." His master said to him, "Well done, good and faithful servant; you have shown you can be faithful in small things, I will trust you with greater; come and join in your master's happiness." Last came forward the man who had the one talent. "Sir," said he, "I had heard you were a hard man, reaping where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered; so I was afraid, and I went off and hid your talent in the ground. Here it is; it was yours, you have it back." But his master answered him, "You wicked and lazy servant! So you knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered? Well then, you should have deposited my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have recovered my capital with interest. So now, take the talent from him and give it to the man who has the five talents. For to everyone who has will be given more, and he will have more than enough; but from the man who has not, even what he has will be taken away. As for this good-for-nothing servant, throw him out into the dark, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.'"

♦The Gospel of the Lord.♦
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus always new

The lamp is the light of love and hope, and at its centre is the light of Christ. The light is given to us in many ways in our lives - it shines within as an eternal joy, and outwards to many others. Jesus often advises, 'keep your lamps burning' and 'Let you lights shine. Like when the bulb goes out when the electricity fails, the lamp can go out without oil. The people of the gospel felt foolish that they had not brought oil with them to light their way. The oil is prayer an our relationship with Jesus.

This is the essence of the Christian life. Our Christian life is following a real, loving person: it is an invitation to get to know Jesus, and to find ourselves drawn from our hearts to follow him.

Without this living relationship with Christ, words sound empty. We sometimes hear someone speaking of their Christian faith and cannot help wondering if it comes from the inside or is just a list of things to be believed and read. Ignatius of Loyola's famous prayer is the prayer of the follower of Jesus;

'Lord, teach me to know you more, love you more and serve you more faithfully in my life.'

(Spiritual Exercises). The more indicates that this is never a finished product: like love and friendship it grows in our lives. It is exciting that Jesus is never gone from us.: risen from the dead he is always alive, always new. Our reading of the gospel, our sharing at Mass and the sacraments and our personal prayer keep this relationship always alive, always new.

Thinking of a bright lamp, or imagining one, ask for an ever-brightening light of Christ in your life. Lord, teach me to know, love and serve you more faithfully every day. Donal Neary SJ

Be Ready: The Wisdom of the Ten Virgin

In the Gospel of this Sunday, Jesus tells us the parable of the ten virgins who went out to meet the bridegroom. Five were wise and brought extra oil for their lamps, while the other five were foolish and did not prepare. When the bridegroom was delayed, they all became tired and fell asleep. But when the announcement came that he was approaching, only those who had brought enough oil were ready to welcome him. Jesus concludes this parable with a simple but powerful message: "Therefore keep watch, because you do not know the day or the hour." At first glance, we might think that this Gospel is simply about being prepared for the unexpected. But Jesus invites us to reflect on something much deeper: how prepared are we to meet God? Are we living our lives with our hearts open to Him or are we constantly postponing our relationship with Him until another day? The oil in the lamps represents something that cannot be borrowed from another person. It symbolises our personal relationship with God, our faith, our love, our prayer and the good works we do throughout our lives. Nobody can believe in our place, love in our place or build our relationship with God for us. Others can encourage us, guide us and support us, but each of us must personally respond to God's invitation. There is also an important detail in this parable: the bridegroom is delayed. This reminds us that our Christian journey requires patience and perseverance. Sometimes we experience moments when God seems distant, when our prayers appear unanswered, when life becomes difficult and our faith is tested. It is precisely in those moments that we must keep the flame of faith alive. Being ready does not mean living in fear of death or constantly worrying about the future. It means living each day meaningfully, with faith, love and responsibility. It means forgiving someone today rather than waiting for tomorrow, showing kindness when we have the opportunity, making time for prayer, caring for our families and recognising Christ in those who need our help. We should also remember that the foolish virgins were not necessarily bad people. They simply failed to prepare. Their tragedy was not that they rejected the bridegroom, but that they were not ready when he arrived. How often do we make the same mistake, postponing prayer, forgiveness, reconciliation and the things that truly matter?

The Gospel challenges each of us with an important question: If Christ were to come into my life today, would He find the lamp of my faith burning? Let us not wait for tomorrow to become the people God calls us to be. Let us fill our lamps every day through prayer, the Eucharist, love, forgiveness and acts of kindness. For the Christian life is not about preparing at the last moment, but about learning to live every moment in the presence of God. May we always keep the lamps of our faith burning, so that whenever the bridegroom comes, He may find us ready to welcome Him with joy.

Fr. Desiderio

Dear Brothers and Sisters, thank you for your continued support of our Parish. As you know our Church is an iconic building in Clonmel. I firmly believe the works we are currently undertaking enable us to showcase the beauty of our Church and continue to serve the people who make up our community. To achieve this and play our part in the wider responsibilities of our faith community I want to establish a fundraising pledge.

Brothers and Sisters, today I invite you to prayerfully contemplate a financial pledge to our fund. Over the next twelve months, for example, if 250 people could pledge €20 a month together, we could raise €60.000.

I encourage you to take time to reflect and discuss this with your family and make a decision that is right for you.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Parish Office on 052 61 22773.

We look forward with optimism and hope and ask for your prayers and enthusiastic support in this endeavour. May God bless our efforts.

The Gospel According to John

The Gospel according to John holds a special place among the four Gospels. While Matthew, Mark and Luke are often called the Synoptic Gospels, John offers us a deeper theological and spiritual reflection on the identity of Jesus Christ. His Gospel invites us not simply to learn about Jesus, but to encounter Him personally, believe in Him and discover the meaning of life through Him. John begins with one of the most beautiful and profound statements in the Bible: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God" (John 1:1). With these words, John reveals that Jesus is not simply a great teacher or prophet, but the eternal Son of God, who became human and came to live among us. The central message of the Gospel is that God loves humanity so deeply that He gave us His only Son so that we might have eternal life. One of the distinctive features of John's Gospel is the use of signs and miracles. These are not simply extraordinary events; they reveal who Jesus truly is. The changing of water into wine at Cana, the healing of the blind man, the multiplication of loaves and the raising of Lazarus all point towards Jesus as the source of life, hope and salvation. Another important theme is light and darkness. Jesus declares: "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness but will have the light of life" (John 8:12). Through this image, John reminds us that faith in Christ helps us find direction in moments of confusion, suffering and uncertainty. John also places great emphasis on love. At the Last Supper, Jesus gives His disciples a new commandment: "Love one another as I have loved you" (John 13:34). This is the heart of Christian discipleship. To follow Jesus means to love generously, forgive sincerely, serve humbly and recognise His presence in other people. Perhaps the most important purpose of this Gospel is expressed near its conclusion: "These are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life through his name" (John 20:31). For us today, the Gospel according to John is an invitation to deepen our relationship with Jesus. It challenges us to move beyond knowing about Him towards truly knowing Him, trusting His word and allowing His love to transform our daily lives. The more deeply we encounter Christ, the more clearly, we discover who God is and who we are called to become.

Exploring the Introductory Rites 1

The procession of the priest celebrant and ministers through the body of people is a visible reminder to us that we gather as the Body of Christ. Christ is with us, and we stand together as a sign of welcome and reverence for his presence among us. Our hymn unites us in one voice of praise. The priest reverences the altar with a bow and a kiss as the altar is a symbol of Christ at the heart of this assembly.

GREETING: All make the sign of the Cross, and the priest celebrant greets us from the Chair in words taken from Scripture. These words remind us that in our gathering, the God of the Trinity, the God of grace, love and peace, is with us and working upon us through this celebration.

PENITENTIAL ACT: Before we enter deeper into the Mass, we take one more moment to prepare ourselves, using one of three prayer options given to us in the Missal. Conscious that we all likely come with things we would like to change in our lives, behaviours we would like to be different, in the Confiteor we acknowledge before our brothers and sisters that we have sinned, and we ask for their prayers. But even greater than our sin, we trust in the enduring mercy and love of God, and so we can pray in confidence, Lord, have mercy. On some Sundays, especially in Easter Time, in place of the usual Penitential Act, the blessing and sprinkling of water to recall our baptism may take place.

The Pope's Monthly Intention

For the proper use of wealth – Let us pray for the proper use of wealth, that not succumbing to the temptation of selfishness, it may always be put at the service of the common good and solidarity of those who have less.

Baptism – The Beginning of New Life in Christ

According to the Catechism of the Catholic Church, Baptism is the first and most important of the seven sacraments because it is the gateway to life in the Spirit and the door through which we enter the Church. Through Baptism, we are freed from sin, reborn as children of God, and become members of the Body of Christ. The Catechism teaches that Baptism is not simply a religious ceremony or a family tradition. It is a profound encounter with God's grace. Through the water and the Holy Spirit, we receive a new life in Christ. As Jesus tells Nicodemus in the Gospel of John: "Unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God" (John 3:5). Baptism – Freedom from Sin and New Life One of the central teachings of the Catechism is that Baptism washes away all sin, including original sin, and makes us a new creation in Christ. We are no longer separated from God but become His beloved sons and daughters. Through this sacrament, we receive the gift of the Holy Spirit and are welcomed into the family of the Church. Baptism also gives us a new identity. We belong to Christ, and our lives are called to reflect His love, mercy and goodness. It is not simply something that happened to us on the day of our baptism; it is a gift and a responsibility that should shape our entire Christian journey.

Baptism – A Lifelong Commitment

The Catechism reminds us that Baptism is the foundation of the whole Christian life. It calls us to live according to the Gospel, to reject sin, to forgive others, to love our neighbours and to remain faithful to God. For parents and godparents, the baptism of a child carries a special responsibility. They are called to help the child grow in faith, introduce them to prayer, teach them Christian values and show them through their own example what it means to follow Jesus. We should also remember our own baptism. Do we live as people who belong to Christ? Does our faith influence our decisions, our relationships and the way we treat others? Ultimately, Baptism is not only about the beginning of our Christian life; it is about living that life every day. It reminds us that we are loved by God, called to holiness and invited to walk with Christ towards eternal life. "Baptism is the basis of the whole Christian life, the gateway to life in the Spirit." (CCC 1213)

Points to Ponder

In today's Gospel, Jesus draws from this revelation about the future the practical moral that a Christian needs to be on the watch, living each day as if it were his last.

The important thing is not to speculate about when these events will happen and what form they will take, but to live in such a way that they find us in the state of grace.

Living each day as if it were your last is a powerful concept that can help us to live more fully and with greater purpose. It reminds us that our time on this earth is limited and that we should make the most of every moment. It also encourages us to focus on what is truly important in life, such as our relationships with others and our relationship with God.

Keeping watch is another important aspect of this passage. It reminds us to be vigilant and to stay alert to the signs of the times. We should be aware of the world around us and the events that are unfolding, so that we can respond appropriately. This means being informed about what is happening in our communities, our nation, and the world, and taking action when necessary.

Today's Gospel, then, is a powerful reminder to Christians to live each day as if it were their last and to keep watch for the signs of the times. By doing so, we can live more fully and with greater purpose, and we can be prepared for whatever the future may hold for us.

A Prayer to St Leo the Great • Feast 10 November

Dear Lord, we thank You for giving us
Pope St Leo the Great as an example of holiness.
Help us to imitate the love of You he showed in choosing to respond to Your call to the diaconate and the papacy.
You served the Church faithfully as a deacon,
and You became known for Your virtues.
Then, You answered God's call to lead
His Church as the Pope.
Pray for me, that I may always be open to doing
God's will in my life, no matter what He might call me to.
Pray that I may be as devoted a servant of God as You were. Amen

Family Prayer Through Mary

Prayer is an essential part of family life. It is through prayer that families learn to recognise God's presence, grow in faith and discover the strength to face the challenges of everyday life. One beautiful way to deepen family prayer is through Mary, the Mother of Jesus and our spiritual Mother.

Mary has a special place in the life of every Christian family. She was a mother who loved, cared, listened, trusted God and remained faithful even during difficult moments. Her life teaches us that faith is not simply about knowing God but about trusting Him and allowing Him to guide our daily decisions.

When families pray through Mary, they learn to follow her example. The Rosary, for example, is a wonderful prayer that parents and children can share together. Even if a family cannot pray the entire Rosary, one decade each evening can become a beautiful family tradition. Through the mysteries of the Rosary, children gradually become familiar with the life of Jesus and discover the importance of His love, sacrifice and resurrection.

Family prayer does not have to be complicated or lengthy. Parents can begin by gathering their children for a short prayer before bedtime, saying a Hail Mary together, thanking God for the blessings of the day or asking Mary to protect family members and those who are suffering. What matters most is not the length of the prayer but the love and sincerity with which it is offered.

Parents also have an important responsibility to teach their children to pray. Children learn about faith not only through words but, above all, through the example of their parents. When they see their mother and father praying, forgiving one another, attending Mass and trusting God in difficult situations, they begin to understand what it means to live as Christians.

Mary also teaches families the importance of listening to God. At the wedding feast of Cana, she told the servants: "Do whatever he tells you" (John 2:5). These words are equally important for our families today. They remind us to put Jesus at the centre of our homes, our relationships and our decisions.

A family that prays together does not become a family without problems, but it becomes a family that knows where to find strength, hope and guidance. Through Mary's maternal intercession, we learn to turn towards Jesus with greater confidence.

May every Christian home become a little school of prayer, where children grow in faith, parents discover the joy of serving God, and Mary gently leads the whole family closer to her Son.

Thought for the Day

Often we light candles as a sign of remembering and as we light the candle, we say a prayer for that person that they may be enjoying the marvellous light of heaven. The candlelight reminds us that we too can share the light of hope, that we carry, with others.

When you are in a dark place, the warmth of a smile or a kind word can mean a lot.

November 2026

1st November: Feast of All Saints.
All Saints are our strength for our pilgrim way: Lights in these dark days of winter and sources of hope and confidence, interceding for us and praying that God will win our souls and unite us with them at last, where we will see Him as He really is. Sr. Niamh Galvin O.P. Intercom Nov. 2026 p.23

Praying With The Dying.

The Irish prayers for the dying are among the oldest and most beautiful in the tradition. They are not prayers asking God to reconsider. They are prayers of accompaniment – of walking with the dying person to the edge of what can be walked to.

'Go dtuga Dia suaimhneas dó' – may God give him peace. 'Ná biodh eagla ort' – do not be afraid. 'Tá mé ag gui ar do shon' – I am praying for you. The Irish prayers at the deathbed are spoken aloud, in the presence of the dying, to the dying – not over their heads in a separate conversation with God but directly, personally, the living speaking to the barely living across the distance that is opening between them. The tradition understood that hearing is the last sense to go, and the prayers were spoken accordingly.

The rosary beads wrapped through the fingers of the dying were not placed there as a formality. They were placed there as an instrument – the familiar decades of the rosary being said by the gathered family throughout the dying hours, the repetition of the familiar prayers a thread that the dying person could follow through the darkness if they could still hear, could still hold, could still find in the sound of the voices around them the community that had held them their entire life.

If children are present they are learning something that no school teaches – how the Irish meet their dead. How to be present without flinching. How to pray without preforming. How to love someone through the last thing that can be done for them, which is to be in the rom and say the words and hold the hand. This is the tradition. This is what it looks like from the inside. Anon. Intercom November 2026 P.24

The Irish Blesseds

Seventeen Irish martyrs, men and women, cleric and lay, put to death for the Catholic faith between 1579 and 1654 were beatified by Pope John Paul II in 1992: Dermot O'Hurley Archbishop of Cashel; Conor O'Devany, Bishop of Down and Connor; Patrick O'Loughran, chaplain to the O'Neill family, and Maurice McKenraghty, chaplain to the Earl of Desmond; Dominicans Terence O'Brien and Peter Higgins; Franciscans John Kearney, Patrick O'Healy and Conrad O'Rourke; Augustinian William Tirry and a Jesuit lay brother, Dominic Collins. Lay people Francis Taylor, Mayor of Dublin, and Margaret Ball, Dublin. The Wexford martyrs, a baker, Matthew Lambert, and a group of Sailors, Robert Meyler (Tyler), Edward Cheevers and Patrick Cavanagh.

John Sullivan (1861 – 1933), was declared blessed at the first ever beatification celebrated in Ireland.

Edmund Ignatius Rice (1762 – 1844), Founder of the congregation of Christian Brothers, beatified by Pope John Paull II on 6th October 1996.

Tadhg Mac Cárthaigh (Thaddeus McCarthy) (1455 – 1492), appointed bishop of Ross in 1482 and Cork and Cloyne in 1490 but subjected to opposition he died in Ivrea on his journey home after his confirmation in Rome as bishop. Beatified 26th August 1895 by Pope Leo XIII.

Archbishop Fulton Sheen. Irish Ancestry.

Archbishop Fulton Sheen was born 1895 in El Paso, Illinois, given the name Peter John, later adopting his mother's maiden name Fulton. He grew up in Peoria, Illinois, ordained a priest for the Diocese of Peoria in 1919. He studied at CUA Washington DC, Leuven and Rome and for over twenty five years he presented radio and television programmes on the Catholic faith; radio from 1930 – 1950, television from 1952 – 1957, becoming the best known American Catholic apologist. He was appointed auxiliary bishop in New York in 1952 and later Bishop of Rochester from 1966 to retirement in 1969 with the honorary title of Archbishop. He died on 9th December 1979. He was beatified on 24th September 2026 in St Louis, Missiouri. Intercom, November 2026 P. 31.

Thoughts On Death

St Pier Georgio Frassati: No Need to Fear Death. Pier Georgio did not fear death, he said: it is a 'very simple transition from life to Life, which should never frighten us in any way.'

All Hail King Jesus

Many of the songs used in evangelical worship are loud and strong in rhythm, often few words and lots of repetition, yet expressing, sourced from the Bible, our faith in Jesus as King and Saviour, with whom we will reign if we endure (2 Tim 2:12).

All hail King Jesus
All hail the Lord of Heaven and Earth
All hail King Jesus
All hail the Saviour of the world

A good example is All hail King Jesus. On the darkest day in history the cross is not the end; there is resurrection and life. This is the song chosen by Katie Taylor as she enters the arena of Croke Park on 24th September last ending her professional boxing career. Though an earlier song similar in title and content, this version dated 2021 by Jeremy Riddle, Peter Mattis, Steffany Gretzinger and Ran Jackson, published by Bethel music with Bethany Wohrie on Vocals. For over four minutes, with Katie singing along with the recording – which was almost drowned out by the cheers of over 80,000 fans and fireworks – the song expressed our Christian faith in the victory of the cross and the Kingship of Jesus.

Jesus is King of Kings,
Lord of Lords,
Jesus is Emmanuel,
Bright morning star and for all eternity …
I am going to praise him forevermore.
I will reign with him. Intercom, November 2026 P.3.

23rd November: Feast of St. Columbanus

A Blessing by St. Columbanus.

Lord, may everything we do this day begin with Your blessing and continue with Your help.
May everything we say this day begin with Your love and continue with Your grace.
May everything we plan this day begin with Your inspiration and continue with Your peace.
So that throughout our lives all that we begin in You, may by You be happily ended, and all that we seek through You may be lovingly attended. Amen. Dailyprayers.org

Introducing the Parish of Dunhill & Fenor

Welcome to our parish. The parish of Dunhill and Fenor is situated in the southeast of Ireland in the diocese of Waterford and Lismore, about 15 km southwest of Waterford city. Of course, if you are a parishioner, you already know where we are. However, you could be an American in Paris who just happened upon this web site and, naturally, you might wonder where our parish is situated.

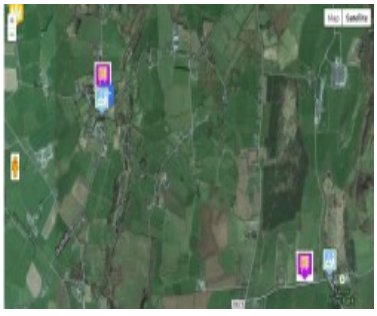

Long ago the area was served by three churches in three separate parishes: Dunhill, Reisk, and Islandikane. In 1760 or thereabouts these parishes were replaced by the joint parish of Dunhill and Fenor in which Fenor served the areas of Reisk and Islandikane. There are now two churches in the parish of Dunhill and Fenor: the church of the Sacred Heart in Dunhill, shown below, and the church of the Immaculate Conception in Fenor, shown above. You can learn more about parish history by selecting the “Information” tag in the menu bar above this page. You can learn more about our two churches from the brochures “The Church of the Sacred Heart, Dunhill” and “The Church of the Immaculate Conception, Fenor” which are available in the two churches and which may be seen by clicking HERE.

The Parish Maps

In case you might try to find us using your satellite navigation system, we have given the latitude and longitude of each church. So now there’s no excuse for not knowing where we are!

Dunhill: 52Âº 10â€² 20â€³N, 07Âº 15â€² 45â€³W.
Decimal: Latitude 52.1722 Longitude: -7.2625
Fenor:â€, 52Âº 09â€² 42â€³N, 07Âº 13â€² 34â€³W.
Decimal: Latitude 52.1616 Longitude: -7.2261

Of course, our parish is not simply a collection of buildings or a geographical area – it is a community of Christian people that strives to love God and neighbour. The purpose of this web site is to assist them in their spiritual journey and to help them to join in the life of the parish by providing information about parish life, services, and resources. We are led in our journey by the parish administrator.

We hope that you will enjoy your visit and come back again soon and often. Newcomers to the parish are especially welcome and should find plenty here to interest and inform them, while those who are living or travelling abroad may keep themselves up to date. Most of all, we hope that our faithful parishioners of long standing will be pleasantly surprised by what they find in this, their very own web site.

Welcome to the Ballyduff / Kilmeaden Parish Website.

In the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore in the southeast of Ireland, Ballyduff and Kilmeaden are about 23 miles from Dungarvan and 5 miles from Waterford.

I hope you find the information on this site interesting and helpful and I thank all those who created the website and who keep it regularly updated. We invite you to join us for prayer and worship if you are in the area and pray God's blessings on you and all those who are significant in your life.

Parish Mission Statement

The Sacred Heart Parish is a community of all God's people journeying together, sharing the Good News of God's love, working together to bring peace and justice to all, with the Eucharistic celebration as the centre of Parish life.

Welcome to the Parish of St Joseph, St Benildus & St Mary

Our parish is the largest parish in the Diocese of Waterford & Lismore. The Parish is situated in the south-east of Waterford City, it stretches from St Joseph & St Benildus Church on Newtown Road to St Mary's Church in Ballygunner.

You are welcome to look through our website, to find information on any of our ministries and sacraments, to keep updated on the news of the parish, or to contact parish representatives.

CANDLE LIGHT
Often we light candles as a sign of remembering and as we light the candle we say a prayer for that person that they may be enjoying the light of heaven.
The candle light reminds us that we too have the opportunity to share the light of hope, that we carry, with others.
When you are in a dark place, the warmth of a smile or a kind word can mean a lot.

It may feel that our own light is very small and insignificant in times of much darkness but each time it is shared, it is not halved but doubled. Together we really can make a difference.
Dr Lynn Bassett , artofdyingwell.org

Lord of life and love

As we give thanks for times past
Grant us courage
to embrace the present
And grace to share the future.
In memory of loved ones dear,
Kindle their flame to shine in the dark
And light the path ahead
Show the way that leads to life,
As we cherish days gone by
And inspire us with the touch of love
That faith and hope live on

JESUS ALWAYS NEW

The lamp is the light of love and hope, and at its centre is the light of Christ. The light is given to us in many ways in our lives - it shines within as an eternal joy, and outwards to many others. Jesus often advises, 'keep your lamps burning' and 'Let you lights shine.

Like when the bulb goes out when the electricity fails, the lamp can go out without oil. The people of the gospel felt foolish that they had not brought oil with them to light their way. The oil is prayer and our relationship with Jesus. This is the essence of the Christian life.

Our Christian life is following a real, loving person: it is an invitation to get to know Jesus, and to find ourselves drawn from our hearts to follow him. Without this living relationship with Christ, words sound empty.

Ignatius of Loyola's famous prayer is the prayer of the follower of Jesus;

Lord, teach me to know you more,
love you more
and serve you more faithfully in my life.' (Spiritual Exercises).

The more indicates that this is never a finished product: like love and friendship it grows in our lives. It is exciting that Jesus is never gone from us.: risen from the dead he is always alive, always new. Our reading of the gospel, our sharing at Mass and the sacraments and our personal prayer keep this relationship always alive, always new

Jesus always new

The lamp is the light of love and hope, and at its centre is the light of Christ. The light is given to us in many ways in our lives - it shines within as an eternal joy, and outwards to many others. Jesus often advises, 'keep your lamps burning' and 'Let your lights shine.

Like when the bulb goes out when the electricity fails, the lamp can go out without oil. The people of the gospel felt foolish that they had not brought oil with them to light their way. The oil is prayer in our relationship with Jesus. This is the essence of the Christian life. Our Christian life is following a real, loving person: it is an invitation to get to know Jesus, and to find ourselves drawn from our hearts to follow him. Without this living relationship with Christ, words sound empty. We sometimes hear someone speaking of their Christian faith and cannot help wondering if it comes from the inside or is just a list of things to be believed and read.

Ignatius of Loyola's famous prayer is the prayer of the follower of Jesus; 'Lord, teach me to know you more, love you more and serve you more faithfully in my life.' (Spiritual Exercises). The more indicates that this is never a finished product: like love and friendship it grows in our lives. It is exciting that Jesus is never gone from us.: risen from the dead he is always alive, always new. Our reading of the gospel, our sharing at Mass and the sacraments and our personal prayer keep this relationship always alive, always new.

Thinking of a bright lamp, or imagining one, ask for an ever-brightening light of Christ in your life.
Lord, teach me to know, love and serve you more faithfully every day

HOLY SOULS NOVENA

Our Novena for the Holy Souls began at Holy Cross, Tramore on Monday 2nd November at the 10.00am Mass and continues until Tuesday 10th November at all Masses.
Novena begins in Our Lady's Carbally from Monday 16th Nov – Thursday 19th at 7.30pm

All deceased relatives and friends are prayed for at every Mass for the duration of the Novena. Envelopes will be available in the porches. Please hand them in to the sacristy, parish office or put into the boxes by the sanctuary.

For security reasons please do not leave the envelopes anywhere else. Thank You.

Remembrance Mass

The Remembrance Mass for all who died in our parishes in the past twelve months takes place in Carbally on Friday Nov 20th at 7.30pm and in Tramore on Thursday 26th Nov at 7.30pm
This Mass allows anyone who has lost a loved one, either recently or over the years, to come and remember them and to light a candle for them in front of the altar in this the month of the Holy Souls. (Candles will be provided)
If you would like anyone who passed away in the last 12 months remembered, please give the name in to the parish office 051-386477.

Please note that for the duration of the Novena from 2-10th November, funerals will not take place at the 10am Mass, but will be held at a later time.
