Weekly Reflection.

'What to do next!'

I was given a book recently about former Taoiseach Brian Cowen who was in office when the world economy crashed in the 2008/09 period. He and his Minister for finance, the late Brian Lenihan have been condemned for a lack of wisdom, for proclaiming that the Irish economy was on a sound footing, that the fundamentals were secure, just as the entire banking system collapsed and the Troika were coming in.

The two men were condemned for not knowing what to do when all the strategies of the world economy were about to be turned upside down. They were condemned for a lack of wisdom.

The Bridesmaids in the Gospel today are presented as either foolish or wise. The foolish were safe only if everything went to plan but were lost completely if anything unexpected turned up. The wise were safe regardless of what circumstance prevailed, be they unexpected or not, because they were prepared.

In life we face many challenges where we often find ourselves challenged by the unexpected. Wisdom consists in doing the ordinary things with sensitivity, doing the next thing you have to do sensibly, and putting your whole heart into enjoying what you do.

Faith is about knowing what to do next.

Fr Shane.

Thirty – Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

The door is closed against the bridesmaids who did not keep vigil nor trim their lamps. The concern of the Christian should be readiness for the call of the Lord, to seek the light of Christ in daily living, and to keep burning brightly the light received at baptism. It is true wisdom to be always eagerly longing for the Lord.

Week of Witness for Persecuted Christians: One in ten Christians, 220 million people, live in countries where they are persecuted for their faith. Envelope Collection: Week ending 1st November – Weekly offerings £2760.00. and €39.50. Thank you for your generous support.

Remembering our Dead: we traditionally remember the faithful departed during November, the month of the Holy Souls. A novena of nine masses will be offered for the repose of all our deceased – families, relatives, friends, the anonymous dead whom no one remembers in St. Patrick's. Lists are available at the back of each church, on which you can record the name of those whom you want remembered and prayed for. You are asked to put your lists in an envelope and place them in the basket provided on the sacred space at the front of the altar in St. Patrick's during mass times.

Thought for Today

Often we light candles as a sign of remembering and as we light the candle we say a prayer for that person that they may be enjoying the marvellous light of heaven. The candlelight reminds us that we too have the opportunity to share the light of hope, that we carry, with others.

When you are in a dark place, the warmth of a smile or a kind word can mean a lot.

It may feel that our own light is very small and insignificant in times of much darkness but each time it is shared, it is not halved but doubled. Together we really can make a difference.

Dr Lynn Bassett artofdyingwell.org

Points to Ponder

In today's Gospel, Jesus draws from this revelation about the future the practical moral that a Christian needs to be on the watch, living each day as if it were his last.
The important thing is not to speculate about when these events will happen and what form they will take, but to live in such a way that they find us in the state of grace.
Living each day as if it were your last is a powerful concept that can help us to live more fully and with greater purpose. It reminds us that our time on this earth is limited and that we should make the most of every moment. It also encourages us to focus on what is truly important in life, such as our relationships with others and our relationship with God.
Keeping watch is another important aspect of this passage. It reminds us to be vigilant and to stay alert to the signs of the times. We should be aware of the world around us and the events that are unfolding, so that we can respond appropriately. This means being informed about what is happening in our communities, our nation, and the world, and taking action when necessary.
Today's Gospel, then, is a powerful reminder to Christians to live each day as if it were their last and to keep watch for the signs of the times. By doing so, we can live more fully and with greater purpose, and we can be prepared for whatever the future may hold for us.

St Patrick's Church – 200th Anniversary

Next year, 2027, marks the 200th anniversary of St Patrick's Church. We would like to celebrate this important milestone in the life of our parish and are inviting interested parishioners to come together to help plan for the occasion. An initial meeting will take place on Tuesday, 17th Nov. at 7pm in the church. Everyone welcome. Whether you have ideas, or simply a willingness to help, your contribution would be greatly appreciated. We hope to make this a fitting celebration of our church, our faith and the generations who have worshipped here over the past 200 years.

CATHEDRAL HEATING UPDATE We had hoped to begin upgrading the cathedral's heating system last month. Unfortunately, we have encountered a difficulty, and the work will now be delayed. We sincerely apologise for the disappointment and frustration this will cause. We recognise that the upgrading of the heating system is long overdue, and are very conscious of the discomfort many of you have experienced in the cathedral during the colder months. The current heating arrangement is only temporary and does not always provide sufficient warmth. In the meantime, please dress warmly for Mass and, where possible, sit near the temporary heaters. We are grateful for your patience and continued support.
Having considered the proposed system carefully, we have concerns about its long-term running costs. Given the size of the cathedral, we want to be sure that any system we install will be effective, affordable to operate and sustainable into the future. With no comparable large building in Ireland, we have identified two large churches in England which have installed similar systems and we are arranging visits to learn from their experience, particularly regarding effectiveness and running costs.
Our objective remains to find a heating system that is effective, efficient, environmentally friendly and sustainable for generations to come. We thank you sincerely for your patience, understanding and continued support. We will keep you informed following these visits and update you as soon as a clear way forward has been established.

Reflection: What Do We Take With Us?
We often hear it said that we cannot take anything with us when we die. Certainly, everything we possess will be left behind. But what about everything we have become? In today's Gospel, the wise bridesmaids have prepared for the arrival of the bridegroom. Their oil reminds us that some capacities cannot be borrowed at the last minute. Patience, honesty, generosity and forgiveness grow through being practised. But developing character is not an end in itself. These qualities enlarge our capacity to love and to enter into relationships with others. And where life's wounds have diminished that capacity, God's grace can heal and restore it. The destination in Jesus' parable is a wedding feast — a celebration of love and belonging. If love can bring us such happiness in this life, how much greater will our joy be when, through God's grace, we can love freely and fully, with all that we are and all that we have become?

Church of the Immaculate Conception 200th Anniversary: We will mark this significant milestone with a Celebration Mass on Sunday 6th December at 11.00am.
