The Parable of the Wicked Tenants

Matthew 21:33–43

Jesus tells of a landowner who plants a vineyard and entrusts it to tenants. When the owner sends servants to collect its harvest, the tenants beat and kill them. Finally, he sends his beloved son, but they kill him too, believing they can seize the inheritance.

The vineyard represents God's people, the servants represent the prophets, and the beloved son points to Jesus himself. The parable recalls Israel's repeated rejection of God's messengers and foreshadows the rejection and death of Christ. Jesus then warns that God's kingdom will be entrusted to those who will produce its fruits. The stone rejected by the builders will become the cornerstone — a Messianic prophecy fulfilled in Jesus, who becomes the foundation of the new covenant and the Church (Matthew 21:42; Psalm 118:22–23). 16

Reflection: God lovingly entrusts his vineyard to us. We are called to receive Christ, listen to God's word, and bear fruits of faith, justice, mercy, and holiness.
