SPLENDOUR OF THE ROSARY

Caryll Houselander (1901-1954) wrote some beautiful prayers on the rosary as London was being bombed in World War 11. Here is an excerpt of her prayers:

The Finding in the Temple
through Mary seeking her lost Son,
may we be given grace
always to seek for the Christ-child
and always to find him.

Let us find him in all children,
and in all who have a child's needs
the helpless, the sick, the aged;
in all who serve and are trusting and poor;
in all who are lonely and homeless.

Let us too become as little children,
to find the Divine Child in our own hearts.

Consult not your fears
but your hopes and dreams.
Think not about your frustrations, but about
your unfulfilled potential.
Concern yourself not with what you tried and failed in,
but with what is still possible for you to do.'

A ROYAL WEDDING (Matthew 22 1-14)

Today's gospel is difficult. Stories of judgement, weeping and gnashing of teeth just do not appeal to most people. We hear about a King whose invitations to his son's wedding banquet are repeatedly refused. In some instances his messengers are killed.

One interpretation of this parable is that it is an allegory for the Jesus story, God's invitation to the Messianic banquet has been refused by those who are expected to embrace it. This banquet is therefore opened up to the unexpected, the Gentiles, the poor, those on the margins, the outcast.

Going deeper again, we can hear that God wants to be in a relationship with each of us. We are all invited to this banquet. Yet, sometimes we exclude ourselves from being in fellowship with God. We may be hurt, suffering in a way that is preventing us from accepting the invitation to experience God's love and hospitality. We simply want to be left alone. Notice how the host in this parable persists. God does not give up on us.

And what about that man who did come but was not suitably dressed? If we accept the invitation we should be ready for change and not just change of an outer garment, real change. Because any real experience of God in our lives transforms us in some way or another. The Gospel is meant to make us uncomfortable. Otherwise, what changes for us? We can sit around and listen to nice gentle passages that keep us comforted, or we can be challenged and moved to experiencing something real, something which requires us to show up and be transformed. It is up to us whether or not we accept this invitation.

GOSPEL REFLECTION
MATTHEW 22:1-14

The landowner had prepared for a large crowd. When he sent his servants out to personally remind the guests to come, some of the servants were mistreated, beaten and even killed by his prospective guests! Quite naturally, the king was enraged.

What does this Sunday's Gospel say to us? I doubt that we have had the experience this story speaks of. However, we all have been disappointed and upset at various times in our lives.

We may have been deeply hurt by someone or betrayed by another. Our natural human response is to be angry, hurt and disappointed – and rightly so.

In these situations we need to take time to calm down and deal with the hurt, anger and disappointment. We need to acknowledge and feel the emotions. If we repress them, most likely the emotions will come back with a vengeance. But we can't stop there. We also need to honestly acknowledge what we are experiencing but then with time to gradually 'let those feelings go' and forgive.

Most often this is the last thing that we want to do! It will take time but it is an important step to take.

If we nurse our anger and hurt, we are not hurting the individuals who disappointed us, we are hurting ourselves and those we love! If we are not able to forgive, we simply need to ask God to help us. May we have the grace to ask God to heal the anger and hurt – and to free us!
