Witness

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace:
to bring love where there is hatred,
to bring light where there is darkness,
and to bring trust where there is doubt.

*May the Lord bless you and keep you;
May He make His Face shine upon you and be merciful to you;
May He turn His Countenance towards you and grant you His Peace!*
Num. 6: 22-27

Prayers of the Angel

"My God, I believe, I adore, I hope and I love You! I ask pardon of You for all those who do not believe, do not adore, do not hope and do not love You!"

"Most Holy Trinity; Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, I adore You profoundly, and I offer You the most precious Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ, present in all tabernacles of the world, in reparation for the outrages, sacrileges and indifferences with which He Himself is offended. And, through the infinite merits of His most Sacred Heart, and the Immaculate Heart of Mary, I beg of You the conversion of poor sinners."

11Ú DEIREADH FÓMHAIR 2026 – AN tÓCHTÚ DOMHNACH FICHEAD – A

Reflection

Reading today's gospel challenges us to ask ourselves how well we are responding to the Lord's multiple invitations to us. Are we so tied up in all kinds of concerns and anxieties about things which do not really matter that we fail to recognise or simply ignore the invitation to God's banquet? And, even if we may not persecute God's prophets and messengers, how seriously do we take their words of wisdom? Following the refusal of the invited guests to accept the invitation, the King sends his servants out again – this time not to the houses of the wealthy and respectable, but to the crossroads in the town. These were places near the gates and markets of a typical Middle East town where large crowds of ordinary people would gather. Here you found the social and religious outcasts, tax collectors, prostitutes, all those in despised trades. This time no exceptions are made. All are invited, good and bad alike, until the wedding hall is filled. What Jesus is saying is that everyone is invited to the Kingdom of God. All kinds of people are called to be part of God's new world. It does not belong to an elite group of specially chosen ones. It encompasses saints and sinners. As the sacrament of the Kingdom, the Church must never forget that, in God's eyes, there are no first and second-class members. It must resist the temptation to create elite groups that are 'different' and, by implication, 'better' than the ordinary average members. While it might seem wonderful to have a Christian community consisting only of totally dedicated members, it would not reflect the love of God reaching out to all. It would not be a catholic church, a church open to all. The only requirement is 'the simple offering of your faith, green as a leaf'.

Diocesan Conference this week.

Have you every asked yourself why God takes anger so seriously and urges us to cast it out of our lives? One reason is because of what it does to other people. When we lash out at someone in anger, we hurt them and create conflict with them—and that is wrong. God also hates our anger because of what it does to us. Anger cuts us off from others; no one like to be around someone who may explode at any moment.

Thoughts on the Gospel for October 11th 2026

We have today another parable about the rejection of Jesus by the leaders of his own people. It is, as the others were, being addressed to the chief priests and elders of the people, the religious and civic leaders. The parable divides clearly into three distinct parts: 1. two invitations sent out to the intended guests; 2. a general call to all kinds of outcasts; 3. some criteria set for taking part in the Feast. This is a parable about the Kingdom of God and about the people who will eventually belong to it. It is seen here under the aspect of a marriage feast for a king's son. In the First Reading from Isaiah we have a graphic description of the great banquet that the Lord will prepare for his people. There will be rich food and fine wines; there will be neither mourning nor death: In the Gospel parable, the king sends out his servants, referring to the long line of prophets sent to the people of Israel calling them to love and service. Jesus says: When God calls there is always a sense of urgency. The only time to respond is now. I need always to be on the watch, but that is not what happens in the world of today. We are told that those invited were simply not interested. Are we interested?

The Pastoral Council met last Tuesday night, and we decided to go ahead with another Bazaar this year. However, we have decided not to go around the houses this year. But, We will do our best to have plenty of very good and valuable prizes for about 10 or 12 Draws in the Hall and that will include Lambs, Fuel Vouchers, Cash prizes etc and of course a huge 55" Smart TV (Sharp brand) Thank you. Please come out and support our efforts. Anyone who would like to support the Bazaar and cannot attend it, might like to drop a donation into the special boxes in the chapels. Thank You.
