Reflection: What Are We Living From?

We cannot go through life without being hurt. People disappoint us, misunderstand us, sometimes treat us badly. Forgiveness does not mean pretending that these things do not matter, nor does it mean that every damaged relationship can simply be restored. But there is another question worth asking: what do we allow our hurts to do to us? What happens within us eventually reaches other people. Hurt can travel through us. Resentment can travel through us. Someone else's bitterness can slowly become our bitterness too. But mercy can travel through us as well. None of us has made our life entirely by ourselves. We have received love we did not earn, patience we did not deserve, opportunities we could not have created, faults that others chose to overlook. Above all, we live within the mercy of God. The challenge is to remember not only what has been done to us, but also what has been done for us. Sooner or later, one or the other will pass through us into the lives of others.

The Season of Creation: 1st Sept – 4th Oct is the annual Christian celebration to pray and respond together to the cry of Creation: This year, we will unite around the theme "Living Water", inspired by Ezekiel 47:9 - a powerful biblical vision of hope and ecological healing. Set amid exile and loss, the image of living water flowing from God's sanctuary reveals divine healing that renews land, water, biodiversity, and human responsibility towards the whole creation.
