Gospel Reflection
The non-negotiables …

Have you noticed how often the term "non-negotiables" comes up in discussions lately? Each side seems to set out its non-negotiables before any conversation can begin.

In today's Gospel, Jesus is asked which commandment matters most. His answer offers two essentials for anyone who calls themselves Christian: love God and love your neighbour. These commandments belong together. They shape all that we give and receive—in our relationship with God and in our relationships with one another. Simply put, life begins and ends with love.

We see these two movements in the cross. Through Jesus, we reach upward towards God, offering our love. And with Jesus, we reach outward towards the people around us, loving them as he does. These are the foundations of our lives as his disciples.

Take a moment this week to reflect on these movements: How do you show your love for God? How do you show your love for others?
