FEAST DAYS

Wednes 28th October - Ss Simon & Jude
Simon the Zealot, also called Simon the Cananaean, was one of the Twelve Apostles chosen by Jesus. The title "Zealot" reflects his fervent dedication to the Jewish Law, and possibly his prior association with the Zealot movement opposing Roman rule, though this is debated. He is distinct from Simon Peter, the "Prince of the Apostles"
Jude Thaddeus, also known as Thaddaeus or Lebbaeus, was a relative of Jesus, being the brother of James the Less and a cousin of Christ. He is traditionally identified as the author of the Epistle of Jude, a short New Testament letter warning against heresy and immorality He is often called the Patron Saint of Hopeless or Desperate Causes

Thur 29th Oct - St Colman
Saint Colman mac Duagh (c. 560 – 29 October 632) was born at Corker, Kiltartan, County Galway, Ireland, the son of the Irish chieftain Duac (and thus, in Irish, mac Duach). He initially lived as a recluse, living in prayer and prolonged fastings, first on Inismore, then in a cave at the Burren in County Clare. With his relative, King Guaire Aidne mac Colmáin (d. 663) of Connacht he founded the monastery of Kilmacduagh, ("the church of the son of Duac"), and governed it as abbot-bishop, not to be confused with Saint Colman, Templeshanbo (d. 595),

Parish Bulletin
25 October 2026

In this Sunday's Gospel, the focus is on the commandments and the call to love. Jesus responds to the question about the greatest commandment by telling us to love God and to love our neighbour as ourselves. These 'commands' to love God and those around us are not really 'commands'. Love is not love unless it is free and spontaneous. What Jesus proposes are not just commands or rules, but a whole approach to life and to our relationships with others.

Jesus gives us one 'commandment' consisting of two inseparable parts. The key word is 'love', but there are really three loves involved: love of God, love of others and love of self. The love of God, the source of all being and life, comes first. Then comes, as a natural outcome, love for all those in whom God dwells and whom God creates. Because they are the objects of his love, they must also be the objects of my love. Lastly, there is the love of self, since I also am worthy of being loved.

Strangely enough, to implement these loves effectively, we may have to reverse the order to: love of self, leading to love others, leading finally to love of God. In a way, the most basic love is love of myself. Today's Gospel says:

You shall love your neighbour as yourself.

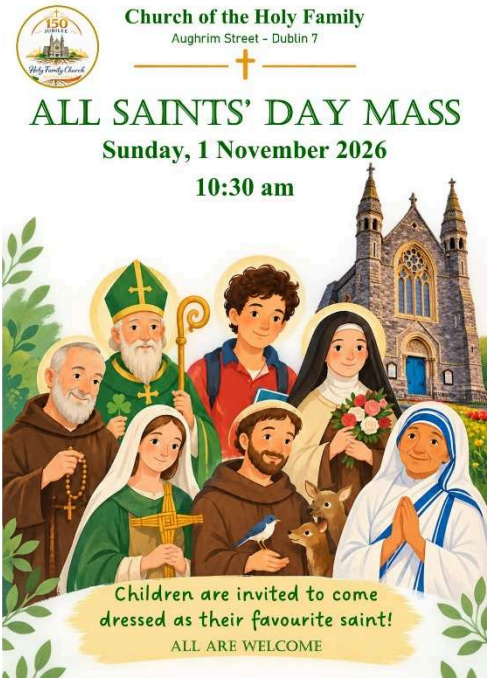

On the one hand we might think this is an unnecessary command. Who doesn't love themselves, think about themselves and worry about their welfare? At the same time, we have been taught at times not to love ourselves, not to be selfish and self-centred. And it seems that a great many people do not like very much what they see in the mirror. (Adapted from Sacred Space)

Holywins celebration on 31 October

The celebration of "Holywins" ("Holiness wins"), is an initiative that originated in Paris in 2002 with the aim of celebrating the eve of All Saints on 31 October in a Christian way. Over time, this Catholic celebration has been spreading to other places in the world.

On that day, parishes and Catholic communities gather to celebrate Mass, participate in Eucharistic adoration and prayer meetings, and take part in recreational activities to encourage the participation of children, young people, and their families.

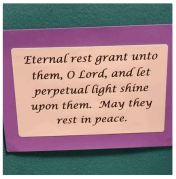

It's customary for children to dress up as their favourite saints, to discuss the exemplary lives of the saints, and to remind children of the call to sainthood. In addition, games are usually played, lively songs are sung, and food and sweets are shared.

Children are invited to come dressed as their favourite saint!
All welcome

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Pastors The Energy of True Religion

'To love God and love your neighbour - this is one of the most attractive of the sayings of Jesus. It is an encouragement to live fully with what brings the greatest joy in life - true love of God and the neighbour. It is at the heart of good religion, and what attracts many to Jesus.

Bad religion puts law above love. Bad religion fights for the partial truth of religion. We risk being victims of bad religion, just as we can be victims of bad nationalism, bad psychology or any other bad way of living. Jesus' life was to propose good religion and to live by it. The religion of some of the Pharisees was bad, in that it was incomplete in its scope.

We admire those who give energy in love and service. We are proud of people we know whose lives make a great and good difference to others. We know that our family and neighbourhood, parish and school, workplace and leisure time have been enriched by the self-sacrificing love of many people, young and old.

'He gave it his all' - we say that of a good player at the end of a match. We say of parents that they "were always there for the children. May we give all we have in our lives, giving in love, knowing that all we give is itself a gift from God, the giver of all good gifts.

Picture Jesus with a sick person; watch him touching the person. This would be against the law! What would you say to him? Lord, let love be the guiding principle of all I say and think. ~ Fr Donal Neary, S.J.

FIRST READING — Ex 22:20-26

A reading from the book of Exodus
The Lord said to Moses, 'Tell the sons of Israel this:
'"You must not molest the stranger or oppress him, for you lived as strangers in the land of Egypt. You must not be harsh with the widow, or with the orphan; if you are harsh with them, they will surely cry out to me, and be sure I shall hear their cry; my anger will flare and I shall kill you with the sword, your own wives will be widows, your own children orphans.
'"If you lend money to any of my people, to any poor man among you, you must not play the usurer with him: you must not demand interest from him.
'"If you take another's cloak as a pledge, you must give it back to him before sunset. It is all the covering he has; it is the cloak he wraps his body in; what else would he sleep in? If he cries to me, I will listen, for I am full of pity."'
The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

PSALM — Ps 17:2-4,47,51

Response:
I love you, Lord, my strength.

1. I love you, Lord, my strength,
my rock, my fortress, my saviour.
My God is the rock where I take refuge;
my shield, my mighty help, my stronghold.
The Lord is worthy of all praise,
when I call I am saved from my foes. (R.)

2. Long life to the Lord, my rock!
Praised be the God who saves me,
He has given great victories to his king
and shown his love for his anointed. (R.)

SECOND READING — 1 Th 1:5-10

A reading from the first letter of St Paul to the Thessalonians

You observed the sort of life we lived when we were with you, which was for your instruction, and you were led to become imitators of us, and of the Lord; and it was with the joy of the Holy Spirit that you took to the gospel, in spite of the great opposition all round you. This has made you the great example to all believers in Macedonia and Achaia since it was from you that the word of the Lord started to spread – and not only throughout Macedonia and Achaia, for the news of your faith in God has spread everywhere. We do not need to tell other people about it: other people tell us how we started the work among you, how you broke with idolatry when you were converted to God and became servants of the real, living God; and how you are now waiting for Jesus, his Son, whom he raised from the dead, to come from heaven to save us from the retribution which is coming.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
Open our heart, O Lord,
to accept the words of your Son.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL — Mt 22:34-40

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees they got together and, to disconcert him, one of them put a question, 'Master, which is the greatest commandment of the Law?' Jesus said, 'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second resembles it: you must love your neighbour as yourself. On these two commandments hang the whole Law, and the Prophets also.'

The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

(all bow during the next three lines)

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory
to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

Look, we pray, O Lord,
on the offerings we make to your majesty,
that whatever is done by us in your service
may be directed above all to your glory.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

We will ring out our joy at your saving help and exult in the name of our God.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

May your Sacraments, O Lord, we pray, perfect in us what lies within them,
that what we now celebrate in signs
we may one day possess in truth.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Behold O kind and most sweet Jesus, I cast myself upon my knees in your sight while with deep affection and grief of soul I mentally contemplate your five most precious wounds, having before my eyes the words that David the prophet spoke about you, most sweet Jesus: "They have pierced my hands and feet, and I can count everyone of my bones." Traditional prayer (before a crucifix) to be said after Communion.

Sunday Message
THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

LOVE, ONLY LOVE

MT 22:34-40

The Pharisees prided themselves on strict observance of the law. So meticulous were they in keeping it, they had worked out that the biblical law contained 365 negative commandments (one 'thou shalt not' for every day of the year) and 248 positive commandments (one for every bone in the human body).

In addition to this written law, they believed that God had given Moses another set of laws that weren't written down but were passed down by an unbroken chain from Moses to them.

Some Pharisees taught that every commandment was to be observed with the same attention to detail. Others taught that the commandments ranged from serious to relatively minor. This debate provides the background to today's Gospel. By asking Jesus' opinion, his opponents are also inviting him to line up on one side or the other in the debate.

Jesus answers by quoting a verse from the Book of Deuteronomy that every member of his audience would know (Dt. 6:5). It was part of the prayer they said twice each day, the Shema Yisrael ('Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one…'). He then adds a verse that 'resembles this' – the command to love your neighbour as yourself (Leviticus 18:2). On these two verses, he says, hang the whole of the Law and the Prophets, that is, God's entire revelation to his people. This is the law that matters. ■

LEARN

Love of God and neighbour is the mark of the Christian

At the heart of our faith is that knowledge that God loves us without reservation

REFLECT

We use the word 'love' with easy abandon today. Think of the casual way we throw it around. We love our bed, our favourite TV soap, our new shoes. We love salt with our chips, sugar in our tea, and a trip to the cinema. I love everything that's bad for me, according to my cardiologist. Love is desire, obsession, addiction, commitment, lust, service; love is whatever we want it to be.

But if we Christians want to know what love truly is, we need only look to God. God is love, St John tells us. God not only loves, God is love. And where there is love, there is God.

In her book Reading Genesis, Marilynne Robinson points out that this Godly love is what distinguished the God of Israel from other Middle Eastern gods of antiquity. The Babylonians and others believed in multiple gods; Abraham and his descendants were unique in being monotheists, in believing there is but one God, who had created them in God's very own image. We are not images of angels or lesser gods but of the creator himself. This was a radical way of thinking.

The other gods of antiquity were remote, distant, and indifferent to the happenings here on earth. The God of Genesis is a benign God who forgives Cain for the murder of his own brother, forgives his people time and again, and is personally invested in them, unlike the apathetic or vengeful gods that other peoples worshipped. Israel's God is slow to anger, rich in mercy, abiding in love.

God, Robinson says, has a lofty view of humankind, expressed poetically in Psalm 8: "What is man that you are mindful of him? Yet you have made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honour."

God loves, and God is love. But, when we say this, we're not describing an up in the sky kind of love. We're describing the kind of concrete love that Jesus showed.

People practise this kind of love every day. Think of parents who care for children with special needs. Or grandparents who pick up the pieces when their child's marriage collapses. Or groups like the St Vincent de Paul, who help the most needy. All of these put love into practice every day.

I like to break down the great commandment into its three parts. We are to:

* love ourselves. Healthy self-love comes from knowing I am made in God's own image. Healthy self-love is not the same as selfishness or narcissism. It is to see myself the way God sees me, as one made in God's own image. Therefore, I am unique, lovable, irreplaceable. Many of us find it hard to love ourselves. Young people, influenced by social media, find it so hard to love themselves. But if we are to love God and others, we must learn to love ourselves.

* love our neighbour. To love is to will the good of another. It is to go out of our way for others. "Feed the poor." That's love. "Break bread with those no one will sit with." That's love. "Respond with patience to someone who gets on my nerves." That's love. Love of neighbour means never being bystanders. More than anything else, God will judge us on whether we loved others.

* love God. God created us out of love, and sustains us lovingly each day. We return God's love through a life of prayer, worship and good works.

St Paul instructed the Ephesians to 'live a life of love.' Three little words beginning with the letter L. Easy to remember. Hard to do. That's how we keep the great commandment. ■

FROM DEACON DAMIAN MURRAY

The Fundamental Way of the Church

This Sunday's Gospel brings us to the absolute core of our faith, providing a perfect opportunity to reflect a little on the legacy of Saint John Paul II, Pope, whose feast day was celebrated this past Thursday.

In Matthew 22:34–40, Jesus unifies the commandments to love God and neighbour. He reveals that these are not two separate paths, but an inseparable bond. True love of God (the vertical dimension) must immediately flow outward to our neighbour (the horizontal dimension).

Drawing from this exact relationship, the Church's beloved holy father famously wrote in his first encyclical that "man is the primary and fundamental way for the Church." He reminded us that because Christ united himself to every human being, our devotion to the Creator cannot be isolated from how we treat His creation. To truly love God means we must fiercely respect, defend, and cherish the sacred dignity of every single person.

This call to love demands practical justice. In the First Reading from Exodus 22:20–26, God commands strict protection for the vulnerable—the stranger, the widow, and the orphan. Mirroring this, the late Pope consistently taught that a society is ultimately judged by how it treats its weakest members. Loving our neighbour means ensuring the marginalised are never exploited.

Finally, in 1 Thessalonians 1:5–10, Saint Paul praises a community that broke with idols to serve the living God. Guided by these readings, we are urged to discard the modern idols of selfishness and consumerism.

Let us answer his iconic call to "Be not afraid!" and step courageously into the specific, demanding, and deeply transformative path of Christ's double commandment of love.

TO PONDER THIS WEEK

Love of God that stops at the church door is incomplete. Who is the stranger, widow or orphan waiting quietly for my love this week?

The Word of the Lord

Readings for the 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

FIRST READING — Exodus 22:20-26

If you are harsh with the widow and orphan, my anger will flare against you

The Lord said to Moses, 'Tell the sons of Israel this:

"'You must not molest the stranger or oppress him, for you lived as strangers in the land of Egypt. You must not be harsh with the widow, or with the orphan; if you are harsh with them, they will surely cry out to me, and be sure I shall hear their cry; my anger will flare and I shall kill you with the sword, your own wives will be widows, your own children orphans.

"'If you lend money to any of my people, to any poor man among you, you must not play the usurer with him: you must not demand interest from him.

"'If you take another's cloak as a pledge, you must give it back to him before sunset. It is all the covering he has; it is the cloak he wraps his body in; what else would he sleep in? If he cries to me, I will listen, for I am full of pity."'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM — Psalm 17(18)

℟: I love you, Lord, my strength.

I love you, Lord, my strength, my rock,
my fortress, my saviour.
My God is the rock where I take refuge;
my shield, my mighty help, my stronghold.
The Lord is worthy of all praise, when
I call I am saved from my foes. ℟

Long life to the Lord, my rock!
Praised be the God who saves me,
He has given great victories to his king
and shown his love for his anointed. ℟

SECOND READING — 1 Thessalonians 1:5-10

You broke with idolatry and became servants of God; you are now waiting for his Son

You observed the sort of life we lived when we were with you, which was for your instruction, and you were led to become imitators of us, and of the Lord; and it was with the joy of the Holy Spirit that you took to the gospel, in spite of the great opposition all round you. This has made you the great example to all believers in Macedonia and Achaia since it was from you that the word of the Lord started to spread – and not only throughout Macedonia and Achaia, for the news of your faith in God has spread everywhere. We do not need to tell other people about it: other people tell us how we started the work among you, how you broke with idolatry when you were converted to God and became servants of the real, living God; and how you are now waiting for Jesus, his Son, whom he raised from the dead, to come from heaven to save us from the retribution which is coming.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
Open our heart, O Lord,
to accept the words of your Son.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL — Matthew 22:34-40

The commandments of love

When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees they got together and, to disconcert him, one of them put a question, 'Master, which is the greatest commandment of the Law?' Jesus said, 'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second resembles it: You must love your neighbour as yourself. On these two commandments hang the whole Law, and the Prophets also.'

PROFESSION OF FAITH — The Creed

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven, (all bow during the next three lines) and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

Prayer after Communion

Let us pray:

May your Sacraments, O Lord, we pray, perfect in us what lies within them, that what we now celebrate in signs we may one day possess in truth. Through Christ our Lord.

Amen

These can be returned in the collection baskets at Mass, or placed in the safe, or to the Parish Office. Contributions and donations for the November List of the Dead go directly to support your local parish clergy when they offer prayers and Masses.
We ask you to be as generous as possible in your contributions.

Solemnity Of All Saints – Next Sunday 1st November This is the great feast of those who have preceded us to our heavenly home. They accompany us on our earthly pilgrimage and encourage us forwards in the ways of faith, hope and love to join them. Mass in our parish Church for this Solemnity will take place on Saturday 31st October at 6pm and Sunday 1st November, at 10am and 12 noon.

All Souls Day, Monday 2nd November Our annual Day of Prayer for the souls of all the faithful departed. Indulgences for the Faithful Departed: on All Souls' Day, we can help the faithful departed by our prayers. A plenary indulgence, applicable to the Holy Souls, is granted to those who visit any parish church or public oratory on 2nd November and there recite the Our Father and the Creed once. Every day from 1st to 8th November inclusive, a plenary indulgence, again applicable to the Holy Souls, is granted to those who visit a cemetery and pray for the departed. It would be lovely if even you go there and simply pray: "Eternal rest grant unto them O Lord and let perpetual light shine upon them and may they rest in peace. May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God rest in peace. Amen."

Thought for the Week

"Our goal must be infinite, not the finite. The infinite is our homeland: Heaven has been waiting for us forever." (St. Carlo Acutis.)

REFLECTION – 24th / 25th OCTOBER, 2026

In our world today we see lots of aggressive behaviour towards many groups of people. We are witnessing a rise in racist attacks, on individuals who are different - culturally, economically, religiously and ethnically. Our own cities and towns have had many such episodes, some people being left horribly injured and others fatally wounded. We were always regarded as a welcoming, safe and hospitable nation but in recent decades these qualities have been seriously tested. We can never presume again that we are the once renowned land of a thousand welcomes. Yet there is an innate generosity, kindness and compassion in our hearts as an Irish nation, qualities evident in our own parishioners and community. We have a deep generosity.

In today's First Reading, the Israelites are commanded "to love the stranger." They are to look into their hearts and remember the time when they were the outsiders. LOVING THE STRANGER WAS THE RIGHT THING TO DO BECAUSE IT'S WHAT GOD EXPECTED. When we give hospitality to people in need they cease being strangers or outsiders. Thus, hospitality became a primary virtue. For the nomadic Israelite people, hospitality literally became a matter of life and death: travellers depended for their survival on the hospitality of strangers. Anyone outside their own natural setting or territory was seen as someone in need of special care. Norms of respect, kindness and decency were laid down as to the way a stranger or anyone in need was to be treated.

In the Gospel Jesus says, "You must love your neighbour as yourself." He is speaking to all of us. As the Israelites were asked to love the stranger, so too, as Christians, we are asked to do likewise. The ultimate offer of hospitality is genuine love, a love that attaches no conditions to our compassionate response to those in need. Pope Leo has said, "LOVE WITH CHRIST'S COMPASSIONATE HEART." He invites us to move from a culture of indifference towards active, fraternal closeness. Our love for one another is to be rooted in God's unconditional love for us. Saint Mother Theresa said, "The fruit of love is service which is compassion in action. Intense love does not measure, it just gives."

We have a great legacy of saints in our Church's history who have taught us what unconditional love and compassion are. They exemplified the sacrificial love and compassion of Jesus. They lived his way of loving, giving, caring, being compassionate, generous of spirit. They all had a willingness to always be there for the stranger, the outcast, the hurt, broken and wounded.

Let us remember the command of Jesus this coming week: LOVE ONE ANOTHER – BUT ALWAYS IN IMITATION OF HIM. Beginning today. When we respond caringly to one another, we have the assurance that we minister to CHRIST. "I was a stranger and you welcomed me."

QUOTES FROM THE SAINTS

"Jesus loves hidden souls. A hidden flower is most fragrant. I must strive to make the interior of my soul a resting place for the heart of Jesus." (Saint Faustina.)

"Start doing what's necessary; then do what's possible and suddenly you'll be doing the impossible." (St. Francis of Assisi.)

"Do you not realise that Jesus is there in the tabernacle expressly for you – yes, for you alone! He burns with the desire to come into your heart. Go without fear to receive the Jesus of peace and love." (St. Therese of Lisieux.)

Points to Ponder - Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time - 25 October 2026

To love the Lord with all our heart – is this even possible? A common assumption is that love must just come, that it grows organically, and that it cannot be forced. That's infatuation, not true love. Any kind of love – for a parent, spouse, child, or friend – will reach a point during which it is no longer easy. For love to be true, it must be a free choice and commitment.

'All your heart, soul, and mind' sounds rather extreme, even rather dangerous. The world says that loving anyone totally is a risky proposition – what if the one we love rejects us or lets us down, leaving us with nothing? And the world is even more terrified to love God totally, who cannot even be seen.

This makes sense; after all, to love totally is to trust that we will find fulfillment precisely by not looking for it ourselves, but by looking to fulfill someone else. That old, almost clichéd phrase, 'love grows when it is given away,' is actually spot-on in this regard.

True love takes a leap of faith, which is what frightens nonbelievers. Many people are okay with going to church every now and then or volunteering for a charity from time to time (and posting it on Instagram, of course).

Loving like that does not require us to make any kind of leap, any kind of definitive change, any commitment. But loving God with everything means that all we do is for love of him. We trust that he will take care of us. That is heroic; that is what it means to be a saint.

Sunday's Liturgy of the Word

ENTRANCE

Love is his word, love is his way,
feasting with men, fasting alone,
living and dying, rising again,
Love, only love, is his way.
Richer than gold is the love of my Lord:
better than splendour and wealth*.

Love is his way, love is his mark,
sharing his last Passover feast,
Christ at his table, host to the twelve.
Love, only love, is his mark.
Richer than gold is the love of my Lord:
better than splendour and wealth.

FIRST READING Ex. 22:20-26

A reading from the book of Exodus

The Lord said to Moses, "Tell the sons of Israel this, 'You must not molest the stranger or oppress him, for you lived as strangers in the land of Egypt. You must not be harsh with the widow, or with the orphan; if you are harsh with them, they will surely cry out to me and be sure I shall hear their cry; my anger will flare and I shall kill you with the sword, your own wives will be widows, your own children orphans.'
'If you lend money to any of my people, to any poor man among you, you must not play the usurer with him; you must not demand interest from him.'
'If you take another's cloak as a pledge, you must give it back to him before sunset. It is all the covering he has; it is the cloak he wraps his body in; what else would he sleep in? If he cries to me, I will listen for I am full of pity'."
The Word of the Lord.
People: Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM
Ps. 95:1.3-5.7-10.R.v.7
(R) I love you, Lord, my strength.
1. I love you, Lord, my strength,
my rock, my fortress, my saviour.
My God is the rock where I take refuge;
my shield, my mighty help, my stronghold.
The Lord is worthy of all praise;
when I call I am saved from my foes. (R)
2. Long life to the Lord, my rock!
Praised be the God who saves me.
He has given great victories to his king
and shown his love for his anointed. (R)

SECOND READING 1Thes. 1:5-10

A reading from the first letter of St. Paul to the Thessalonians.

You observed the sort of life we lived when we were with you, which was for your instruction, and you were led to become imitators of us, and of the Lord; and it was with the joy of the Holy Spirit that you took to the gospel, in spite of the great opposition all around you. This has made you the great example to all believers in Macedonia and Achaia since it was from you that the word of the Lord started to spread – and not only throughout Macedonia and Achaia, for the news of your faith in God has spread everywhere. We do not need to tell other people about it; other people tell us how we started the work among you, how you broke with idolatry when you were converted to God and became servants of the real, living God; and how you are now awaiting for Jesus, his Son, whom he raised from the dead, to come from heaven to save us from the retribution which is coming.
The Word of the Lord.
People: Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION Acts 16.14

Alleluia, alleluia! Open our hearts, O Lord, to accept the words of your Son. Alleluia!

GOSPEL Mt. 22:34-40

Priest: The Lord be with you
People: And with your Spirit
Priest: A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew.
People: Glory to you O Lord.
When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees they got together and, to disconcert him, one of them put a question, "Master, which is the greatest commandment of the Law?" Jesus said, "You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. The second resembles it: You must love your neighbour as yourself. On these two commandments hang the whole Law, and the Prophets also."
The Gospel of the Lord.
People: Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

RECESSIONAL

Sweet Heart of Jesus! Fount of love and mercy, Today we come thy blessings to implore; Oh touch our hearts so cold and so ungrateful, And make them Lord, thine own for evermore.
Sweet Heart of Jesus! We implore,
Oh, make us love thee, more and more.
Sweet Heart of Jesus! Make us know and love thee. Unfold to us the treasures of thy grace. That so our hearts, from things of earth uplifted, May long alone to gaze upon thy face.

A promise kept: When the late Pope Francis met survivors of abuse during his visit to Dublin

A GROUP OF EIGHT survivors of abuse met with Pope Francis on the first day of his visit to Ireland for the World Meeting of Families. The eight came with a variety of experiences of abuse by priests and religious and/or of abuse in Church run institutions. The arrangements for the meeting were only finalised the day before it took place. The meeting was to last 30 minutes and each of those invited was advised that they should think of one or two key messages they wished to convey to the Holy Father, as each would only have a very short time to speak to him. Whether or not this had been agreed with Pope Francis in advance is unclear. However, as in many other situations, Pope Francis departed from the script. The meeting worked out rather differently.

Pope Francis celebrating Mass in the Phoenix Park

Two people (one from Towards Healing, one from CSPS) accompanied the survivors to the meeting, though they were not present during it. The group met in Archbishop's House in Drumcondra on the morning of August 25. The City was in lockdown due to the Pope's visit. Gardai drove the group to the Nunciature (residence of the Papal Nuncio on the Navan Road) in two people carriers. The group arrived about 3pm and the meeting was due to commence at 4pm. However, there had been an unfortunate breakdown in communication which resulted in the group initially being refused entry to the Nunciature.

A security man, with limited English, informed the group that there was no meeting scheduled for 4pm and that they would have to leave and come back later. At this point there was no way to contact those who had organised the meeting as they were with the Pope and had their phones switched off. Those accompanying the group and the Gardaí who drove them to the Nunciature attempted to explain the sensitivities of the situation to the security man, but this made little impression on him. During this time, the survivors were still sitting in the cars. The day was hot. They were uncomfortable. It was impossible to disguise what was going on. One of the survivors protested that it was a gross discourtesy to the survivors to invite them to meet Pope Francis and then to turn them away when they arrived at the venue for the meeting. At this point, the prospects for a successful meeting were receding fast.

A further discussion was held with the security person, using somewhat less diplomatic language to explain that Pope Francis would be very displeased with his actions. He agreed to call his boss who clearly had a better understanding of what was at stake. The survivors were ushered into the residence where some young nuns served refreshments. This helped to ease the tension in the group who were understandably upset at having been left waiting in the cars.

The group bonded quickly. Seven of the eight were happy to be identified, but the eighth person asked not to be, a wish that was honoured by the others. They also agreed to meet with the Pope as a group, which made for a much better use of the available time. Pope Francis arrived at the Nunciature at about 5.10 and the meeting commenced within five minutes. There was another meeting scheduled to take place after the meeting with the survivors, after which Pope Francis was due at the Festival of the Families in Croke Park. There was not a lot of time. Pope Francis went into the meeting with the eight survivors and an interpreter.

An hour passed and those waiting outside the room wondered whether this was a good sign or not. Within another ten minutes there was a sound of laughter, which seemed like a good omen. The scheduled 30-minute meeting turned into a 90-minute meeting at the end of which Pope Francis did not rush away but stayed chatting and posing for selfies.

Afterwards, the members of the group spoke about their experiences. They were all very positive and, significantly, no reference was made to what had taken place when they arrived at the Papal Nuncio's residence. A number of themes emerged:

• Pope Francis gave them all time to say what they needed to say

• He did not appear to know all about the various institutions and situations in which abuse occurred. He listened carefully and asked questions in order to clarify what the survivors told him

• He was unambiguous in his condemnation of the abuses they described

• He told them that he was determined to deal with the abuse and those who have covered it up

• He told them he would reflect what they had told him in the Mass on the following day.

During the Mass in the Phoenix Park the following day, Pope Francis spoke about the meeting. He described those he met as survivors of the abuse of power, of the abuse of conscience and of sexual abuse. He asked for forgiveness for the many forms and instances of abuse and exploitation and for the Church's failure to respond properly when the survivors came forward to tell their stories.

He also said the following:

We ask forgiveness for those children who were taken away from their mothers and for all those times when so many single mothers who tried to find their children that had been taken away, or those children who tried to find their mothers, were told that this was a mortal sin. It was not a mortal sin; it is the fourth commandment! We ask forgiveness.

Pope Francis had been requested to make it clear that those mothers who were searching for their children and those children who were searching for their mothers were not committing a sin by so doing, as they had been told so many times in the past. Four years later, a number of this group met again to contribute to the Synod. In the report of their meeting in June 2022, it states:

Pope Francis, when he was in Dublin, was asked specifically to say that it is not a mortal sin for mothers who were separated from their babies in mother and baby homes to look for them later. He did so at the mass in the Phoenix Park. It was a transformative and healing moment for many people. It lifted a cloud of shame from many of the mothers. It had a practical and immediate impact. There was an 800% increase in tracing enquiries.

Pope Francis brought peace to many troubled souls. May he now rest in eternal peace. ■

Contents of report for the Archbishop

EACH YEAR A REPORT on the activities of the Child Safeguarding & Protection Service is prepared for the Archbishop. It provides a useful means of discerning trends in the number of complaints and allegations of child sexual abuse made against clerics of the Diocese. It also provides data indicative of the Diocese's commitment to the creation and maintenance of safe environments for children and vulnerable adults.

CASE WORK

The Report of the Commission of Investigation into the Catholic Archdiocese of Dublin (the Murphy Report) was published in November 2009 and over the following two years there were allegations of child sexual abuse made against more than 30 priests or former of the Diocese. While the allegations were new, most related to abuse that had occurred in the past and related to priests or former priests who were deceased or had already been taken out of ministry. Since then there has been a steady decline in the number of new allegations of abuse.

Every so often, however, we are reminded that the issue of child abuse in the Church is part of our present, rather than part of our past. The Scoping Inquiry into Historical Sexual Abuse in Schools run by Religious Orders brought the issue back to centre stage during 2024. During the year CSPS received twenty-one allegations against seven respondents (the person against whom an allegation of abuse is made is referred to as a respondent), as compared with five allegations against five respondents in 2023. The new allegations received in 2024 referred to events that occurred before 2000. None of the respondents are currently in ministry.

Something similar happened in 2018, when the issue of abuse within the Church generated a lot of public discussion in the lead up to the World Meeting of Families and the visit of Pope Francis. There was a spike in the number of allegations in 2018 and the downward trend re-asserted itself the following year.

TRAINING

Fifty-nine safeguarding training sessions were delivered during 2024 and they were attended by 1,500 clerics, religious, employees and volunteers. This figure is similar to the figures for previous years, though the numbers dipped during Covid. It is remarkable, and hugely encouraging, that the commitment to the creation and maintenance of safe environments for children and vulnerable adults remains a priority for the clergy, religious and laity of the Diocese. There is always a temptation to become complacent, which would be a disaster. So far, that temptation has been avoided.

VETTING

Each year, approximately 12,000 vetting applications are processed. The majority of these relate to ancillary staff of schools under the patronage of the Archdiocese of Dublin. Vetting is also done in parishes, for those whose work involves ministry with children and vulnerable adults, and vetting is also provided for some religious orders and organisations, such as the Legion of Mary. The system that is currently in place is now a largely online one. It works well, due in large part to good cooperation between those submitting the vetting applications, the National Vetting Bureau and the CSPS staff processing the applications.

SUPPORT OF SURVIVORS OF ABUSE

In this Newsletter, we regularly highlight the support provided to survivors of abuse by organisations such as Towards Healing and Towards Peace. These are services funded by the Church. There are other support services, notably the National Counselling Service (run by the HSE), One in Four and the Rape Crisis Centres (both of which are voluntary organisations). CSPS provides a support service on behalf of the Diocese and also works with these other organisations so that the support provided for survivors is often a co-operative venture, involving more than one organisation.

An example of joint working with survivors is when we, in CSPS, are contacted by a counselling service who have a client who has disclosed abuse by a cleric and who wishes to meet with representative of the Diocese. A member of the CSPS will meet with the person concerned, sometimes with their counsellor, to hear their story. Often these contacts result in a meeting with the Archbishop, which can be a significant milestone of the road to recovery for a survivor.

There are other areas of co-operation between CSPS and other support services. During 2024, team members, along with colleagues from other diocesan offices, participated in training provided by the Galway Rape Crisis Centre. The training focused on dealing with disclosures of abuse and proved informative and very worthwhile.

The Scoping Inquiry, referred to above, generated interest in Trauma Informed Practice, the methodology employed by those contracted to engage with the survivors as part of the Inquiry. There was a general consensus that this part of the Inquiry was done well. Training in this model is being hosted by the Diocese on May 27, 2025. This is a collaboration between the Diocese, Towards Healing and the National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church in Ireland. ■

UNDERSTANDING THE MASS.

The Eucharistic Prayer:

"The Heart of the Mass"

What the Priest is Doing

Everything in the Mass has been moving towards this moment. The Eucharistic Prayer is the longest, most sacred prayer of the entire celebration the great act of thanksgiving through which bread and wine become the Body and Blood of Christ. The priest alone speaks it, but he does not pray alone. He prays with the Church, through Christ, to the Father, in the Holy Spirit. Every word carries the weight of two thousand years of faith. At its centre comes the consecration the words of Christ at the Last Supper at which point the bread and wine are truly transformed.

How We Should Respond. This is not a moment for distraction or private prayer elsewhere. Follow every word. The great "Amen" that concludes the Eucharistic Prayer sometimes called the Great Amen is the congregation's ratification of everything the priest has prayed. It should be the most emphatic word we speak at Mass.

Living This at Mass

At the consecration, when the priest elevates the host and then the chalice, look up. (some of you may remember the late Fr Robinson encouraging you to do so as children all those years ago!!!) The sacristan rings bells precisely to call our attention. This is the summit. Be present to it completely.

POPE LEO XIV

Prayer for the Recovery of Pope Leo. Loving and merciful God, we pray for our Holy Father, Pope Leo, asking you to bless him with healing, strength, and renewed health. Be close to him in his time of need, grant him peace and comfort, and guide those who care for him. May he experience your loving presence and be restored to good health, so that he may continue to shepherd your Church with wisdom and love. Amen.

Entrance

Longing for light , we wait in darkness .Longing for truth we turn to you.

Make us your own, your holy people, Light for the world to see..

Christ be our light! Shine in our hearts . Shine through the darkness. Christ be our light! Shine in your church gathered today.

Longing for peace , our world is troubled. Longing for hope, many despair. Your word alone has power to save us. Make us your living voice.

Christ be our light! Shine in our hearts . Shine through the darkness. Christ be our light! Shine in your church gathered today.

REFLECTION One of the nicest gifts one can give to another person is the gift of encouragement. And it costs nothing. Plant words of encouragement everywhere you go today and just watch what happens. Have you ever noticed how someone with shoulders bent, head drooped and eyes dull from disillusionment, pain or discouragement, will react when given a few kind words of encouragement? Flatter me, and I may not believe you. Criticise me and I may not like you. Encourage me and I will not forget you.Encouragement and words of kindness are gifts you can give that are priceless. Pause for a moment and think of one practical way you can encourage someone today. Wherever you go always leave a legacy of encouragement after you.

BANK HOLIDAY.

As Monday is a Bank Holiday the Parish Office will be closed, and the Church will close after the morning Mass and Rosary.

Spare envelopes and lists are on the tables around the Church. The first Mass for the New Llst will be offered on All Souls Day, November 2nd, and every First Friday in the months ahead.

Feast of Saints Simon and Jude.

October 28th Simon and Jude were among the twelve men Jesus chose to lead his Church.

Tradition holds that after Pentecost Simon preached the Gospel in Edessa and Jude in Egypt. The two apostles met in Persia, where they suffered martyrdom on the same day. Our Lord has pointed certain men to be guides and teachers of the world and stewards of his divine mysteries. Now he bids them to shine out like lamps and to cast their light over every country. These holy men become the pillar and mainstay of the truth, and Jesus said that he was sending them just as the Father had sent him" (Saint Cyril of Alexandria).

Parish Weekly News for St Benedict's & St Monica's

25th October 2026 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time / A

Parish Mission Statement

We, as members of St Benedict's & St Monica's Parishes, strive to be a community united in our Catholic Faith, and strengthened by prayer, worship and service. We accept our call to live out the Gospel of Jesus Christ, working to serve all with justice, peace and love, in the name of one God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit

Pastors Desk The Energy of True Religion

'To love God and love your neighbour - this is one of the most attractive of the sayings of Jesus. It is an encouragement to live fully with what brings the greatest joy in life - true love of God and the neighbour. It is at the heart of good religion, and what attracts many to Jesus.

Bad religion puts law above love. Bad religion fights for the partial truth of religion. We risk being victims of bad religion, just as we can be victims of bad nationalism, bad psychology or any other bad way of living. Jesus' life was to propose good religion and to live by it. The religion of some of the Pharisees was bad, in that it was incomplete in its scope. We admire those who give energy in love and service. We are proud of people we know whose lives make a great and good difference to others. We know that our family and neighbourhood, parish and school, workplace and leisure time have been enriched by the self-sacrificing love of many people, young and old.

'He gave it his all' - we say that of a good player at the end of a match. We say of parents that they "were always there for the children. May we give all we have in our lives, giving in love, knowing that all we give is itself a gift from God, the giver of all good gifts.

Picture Jesus with a sick person; watch him touching the person.
This would be against the law! What would you say to him?
Lord, let love be the guiding principle of all I say and think.

Fr Donal Neary, S.J

ANNUAL PARISH REMEMBRANE MASS

Our parish Annual Mass of Remembrance for those whose funeral took place in our church in the past year, will take place in St Monica's Saturday 7th November @ 7:30pm and St Benedict's Friday 13th November @ 7.00pm. This special Mass is an opportunity for our entire parish community to come together in prayer, to remember our loved ones who have died, and to offer comfort and support to those who are grieving. We strongly encourage all parishioners to join us for this very special occasion, as we unite in faith and prayer, showing the bereaved families that they are not alone in their loss. By coming together, we can surround one another with love, compassion and the support of our parish family.

VOCATIONS: All our parishes and communities within the dioceses are asked to continue to pray for vocations to the priesthood and religious life, and if you know someone who may be considering a vocation, please encourage them to get in touch with the Vocations Team. Fr Seamus McEntee or Fr Bill O'Shaughnessy would be delighted to meet with them, listen to their story and accompany them on their journey of discernment. You can contact them at vocations@dublindiocese.ie or bill.oshaughnessy@dublindiocese.ie.

ST MALACHY'S BOYS SCHOOL

Well done and congratulations to our boys' football team, who played in the Cumann na Bunscoil final in Croke Park during the week. Unfortunately, the result didn't go their way, but the boys did themselves, their school and the wider community proud. Reaching a final in Croke Park is a fantastic achievement, and they should be very proud of their efforts. Well done to all the players, their coaches and everyone who supported them along the way!

CONTRATULATIONS TO BEANN EADAIR

Congratulations to the Beann Eadair Senior Men's Football team who bridged a 52 year gap when winning the Dublin County GAA Junior Championship final on Sunday 18th October, they comfortably beat the Cornelscourt side Geraldines Patrick Moran's by 3-20 to 3-10. Well done to all involved. Condolences to the Ben's Ladies team who put up a great fight against the more experienced St Peregrine's in their Dublin final but ended up on a final scoreline of 6-11 to 4-6. The scoreline did not reflect the quality of the football played by the Howth girls who kept fighting to the end but fell foul to two late goals for the opposition, the girls did Howth proud and showed they will improve and achieve greater success in the future. Well done to all.

The Waking

BY Theodore Roethke (1908 –1963)

I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.
I feel my fate in what I cannot fear.
I learn by going where I have to go.

We think by feeling. What is there to know?
I hear my being dance from ear to ear.
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

Of those so close beside me, which are you?
God bless the Ground! I shall walk softly there,
And learn by going where I have to go.

Light takes the Tree; but who can tell us how?
The lowly worm climbs up a winding stair;
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

Great Nature has another thing to do
To you and me; so take the lively air,
And, lovely, learn by going where to go.

This shaking keeps me steady. I should know.
What falls away is always. And is near.
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.
I learn by going where I have to go.

We would like to send our condolences to the

Family and Friends

Martina Cullen

Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time 25th October 2026

Thought for the Day

When the Pharisees hand Jesus a Roman coin, they are trying to trap him. But Jesus uses that tiny piece of metal to reveal a massive spiritual truth. He asks them, "Whose image is this, and whose inscription?"

The coin bore the face of Tiberius Caesar and an inscription calling him the son of a god. Because Caesar's image was stamped onto the metal, the coin belonged to Caesar's earthly realm. But Jesus immediately pivots to a much bigger question: What bears the image and inscription of God? You do, because His image is stamped on your heart and soul.

Prayer:

Lord Jesus, you hold up the coin of Caesar to remind me of a greater truth: that I am stamped with the image and likeness of God. Forgive me for the times I give my heart, my peace, and my ultimate devotion to the passing things of this world. Help me to fulfil my daily duties with honesty, but never to lose sight of who I truly belong to. Amen

Please return Mass Leaflet and yellow sheet (if not taking home) to the back of Church – Thank You.

FROM THE DEACON'S DESK

THIS SUNDAY'S READINGS

Exodus 22:20-26 & Matthew 22:34-40.

Living the Commandment of Love

This Sunday's readings bring us to the very heart of God's law. In the first reading from Exodus, God reminds His people that genuine faith is expressed not only in prayer and worship but also in the way we treat others, especially those who are vulnerable.

The Israelites are instructed not to oppress the stranger, exploit the poor, or neglect those in need. Having experienced hardship themselves, they are called to show compassion, justice and mercy to others.

In the Gospel, Jesus is asked which commandment is the greatest. His answer unites the whole of God's law into two inseparable commands: to love God with all our heart, soul and mind, and to love our neighbour as ourselves. Love of God and love of neighbour are not separate duties but two dimensions of the one Christian calling.

These readings challenge us to examine how our faith is lived in everyday life. It is easy to profess belief in God; it is often more demanding to show patience, kindness and understanding to those around us.

Jesus reminds us that the measure of our love for God is reflected in the care, respect and compassion we show to others. In loving our neighbour, we reveal the presence of God's love in our world.

Thought

Following deadheading, my plant grew woody. I realised it needed to be cut at the roots. Many of our ills have root causes. Sometimes the root is in us, our past, or others. Lord, as we pray deal with, not just the damaged blooms, but the roots of our trouble. Like a gentle surgeon cut away the impaired and release us into wholeness.

VOCATIONS

We are delighted to share some very encouraging news from the Vocations Team: there are now six people studying for the Archdiocese of Dublin in 2026 — four in Maynooth, studying Philosophy and Theology, and two beginning their Propaedeutic Year in Valladolid, Spain. We give heartfelt thanks to their families, friends and, especially, to the parishes and communities who have supported and encouraged these young men throughout their journey of discernment and continue to accompany them as they prepare for priesthood.

We ask all our parishes and communities to continue to pray for vocations to the priesthood and religious life, and if you know someone who may be considering a vocation, please encourage them to get in touch with the Vocations Team. Fr Seamus McEntee or Fr Bill O'Shaughnessy would be delighted to meet with them, listen to their story and accompany them on their journey of discernment. THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME– 25TH OCTOBER 2026

REFLECTION-POPE FRANCIS' ANGELUS ADDRESS-29-10-2023

God always precedes us, he anticipates us with his infinite tenderness (cf. 1 Jn 4:19), with his closeness, with his mercy, for he is always near, tender and merciful. Babies learn to love on their mother's and father's knees, and we do so in God's arms. The Psalm says, "Like a weaned child in their mother's arms" (cf. 131:2). This is how we should feel in God's arms. And there, we absorb the Lord's affection. There, we encounter the love that impels us to give ourselves generously. Saint Paul recalls this when he says that Christ's charity possesses a power that propels toward loving (cf.2 Cor 5:14). And everything originates in him. You cannot truly love others if you do not have this root, which is God's love, Jesus' love. So, dear brothers and sisters, thinking about God's love that always precedes us, we can ask ourselves: Am I grateful to the Lord, who loves me first? Do I feel God's love and am I grateful to him? And do I try to reflect his love?

From: Navan Road Community Council

We attended a public meeting of residents' concerns, re; Fingal Co. Council's 'Dunsink Urban Area Draft Plan' to develop former Green Belt lands at Scribblestown/ Dunsink Dump - directly below Dunsink Observatory, for approx. 16,000 housing units. Fingal Councillors from the local area, and one T.D. attended. Concerns raised were:- loss of green belt & trees; over density; lack of schools and public transport; the plan refers to 'buses along N3/ Navan Road' & 'Ashtown & Navan Road train stations as public transport hubs'. We all know how full our public transport is at peak times. We submitted on the matter relating to 1. loss of green belt lands, to date maintained as green lung between City & County; 2. Danger of flooding as the lands are all uphill from Ashtown, Navan Roaad, Ashington, and new area of Pelletstown - built on flood plains. (Pelletstown train station closed twice during heavy rainfalls early this year.) 3. Loss of trees adds to flood dangers, as they soak up water etc. 4. Danger of building on or near former Dunsink Dump. Over 1,000 submissions were submitted to Fingal CC. Dunsink Observatory was represented at the meeting, informing all that they are working on obtaining World Heritage UNESCO status.

"The words of today's Gospel are helpful and consoling"

Matthew 22:34-40

Today's short Gospel is about love. Jesus quotes directly from the Hebrew scriptures when he tells us that the most important commandments are: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind." And "You shall love your neighbour as yourself." This brief exchange is found in all three synoptic Gospels (Mark 12:28-31 and Luke 10:25-28). We can also say that St John's Gospel focuses on love. In fact, it is said that when St John was an old man he would always emphasise the importance of love. Scripture scholars tell us that there are 613 commandments in the Hebrew Bible and there was a discussion among the rabbis as to which of them were the most important. The words of today's Gospel are helpful and consoling. We are told that the entire bible can be summarised in two simple phrases which mean loving God and loving your neighbour. In a letter to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the birth of St Therese of Lisieux, Pope Francis quoted her own words: "It is confidence and nothing but confidence that must lead us to love". Pope Francis writes: "It is trust that brings us to love and thus sets us free from fear. It is trust that helps us to stop looking to ourselves and enables us to put into God's hands what he alone can accomplish". He concludes, "At a time of great complexity, St Therese can help us rediscover the importance of simplicity, the absolute primacy of love, trust and abandonment." The challenge presented to us in today's Gospel is not easy. We have busy and demanding lifestyles when so many of us are juggling different work and family commitments. Let us pray in the coming week let us ask God to help us to reach out to our neighbours with love wherever we may find them. St Vincent de Paul once said "do whatever good lies at your hands" because he realised that sometimes those who need help may not be far away.

Vocations

We are delighted to share some very encouraging news from the Vocations Team: there are now six people studying for the Archdiocese of Dublin in 2026 — four in Maynooth, studying Philosophy and Theology, and two beginning their Propaedeutic Year in Valladolid, Spain. We give heartfelt thanks to their families, friends and, especially, to the parishes and communities who have supported and encouraged these young men throughout their journey of discernment and continue to accompany them as they prepare for priesthood.

We ask all our parishes and communities to continue to pray for vocations to the priesthood and religious life, and if you know someone who may be considering a vocation, please encourage them to get in touch with the Vocations Team. Fr Seamus McEntee or Fr Bill O'Shaughnessy would be delighted to meet with them, listen to their story and accompany them on their journey of discernment. You can contact us at vocations@dublindiocese.ie or bill.oshaughnessy@dublindiocese.ie.

Parish Partnership name

Throughout the diocese parishes are being called to come together in new forms. Grouping, cluster, amalgamation of parishes are the way ahead for the diocese that is reduced in priests to service local areas. We are privileged that the parish of Saggart, Rathcoole, Brittas and the parish of Newcastle have been working together for many years. A shared Parish Pastoral Council and Finance Committee has been in place for a number of years showing a shared interest and cooperation between the 'four districts'. We have been invited to discern a common name that has a resonance throughout the area.

One suggestion raised recently was "Mo Sacra" a saint from the 7th century who set up a monastery in what is currently Saggart cemetery. St Brigid's Well in Rathcoole, St. Finian's Well in Newcastle are other names.

Have you any thoughts or suggestions on a name that could be used.
