Reflection: Somewhere Firm to Stand

All of us need somewhere we belong - somewhere we do not have to prove our worth before we are accepted. Christian faith makes an extraordinary claim about the deepest ground beneath our lives. Our life began as gift before it ever became achievement. We come from God and belong to God. That gives us somewhere firm from which to live: secure enough to recognise our gifts and weaknesses, to accept what is unfinished, and to allow our lives to continue unfolding. In today's Gospel, the disciples see a Canaanite woman, someone who does not belong to their world. Jesus sees something more: "Woman, you have great faith." Discipleship means learning to see as Jesus sees. As we become more secure in God's love, we become freer to recognise what God may be bringing to life in others. Perhaps that leaves us with a question: how might my life help to give another person's life room to unfold?
