LITURGY OF THE WORD

FIRST READING Isaiah 5: 1 - 7

A reading from the prophet Isaiah Let me sing to my friend the song of his love for his vineyard.
My friend had a vineyard on a fertile hillside.
He dug the soil, cleared it of stones,
and planted choice vines in it.
In the middle he built a tower,
he dug a press there too.
He expected it to yield grapes, but sour grapes were all that it gave.
And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah. I ask you to judge between my vineyard and me.

What could I have done for my vineyard that I have not done?
I expected it to yield grapes.
Why did it yield sour grapes instead?
Very well, I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard:
I will take away its hedge for it to be grazed on,
and knock down its wall for it to be trampled on.

I will lay it waste, unpruned, undug;
overgrown by the briar and the thorn.
I will command the clouds to rain no rain on it.
Yes, the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the House of Israel, and the men on Judah that chosen plant.
He expected justice, but found bloodshed, integrity, but only a cry of distress.

*The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.*

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Ps. 79:9, 12-16, 19-20

R. The vineyard of the Lord is the House of Israel.

1. You brought a vine out of Egypt; to plant it you drove out the nations.
It stretched out its branches to the sea, to the Great River it stretched out its shoots. [R]
2. Then why have you broken down its walls?
It is plucked by all who pass by.
It is ravaged by the boar of the forest, devoured by the beasts of the field. [R]
3. God of hosts, turn again, we implore, look down from heaven and see.
Visit this vine and protect it, the vine your right hand has planted. [R]
4. And we shall never forsake you again: give us life that we may call upon your name.
God of hosts, bring us back;
let your face shine on us and we shall be saved. [R]

SECOND READING Philippians 4: 6-9 A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Philippians

There is no need to worry; but if there is anything you need, pray for it, asking God for it with prayer and thanksgiving, and that peace of God, which is so much greater than we can understand, will guard your hearts and your thoughts, in Christ Jesus. Finally, brothers, fill your minds with everything that is true, everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honour, and everything that can be thought virtuous or worthy of praise.
Keep doing all the things that you learnt from me and have been taught by me and have heard or seen that I do. Then the God of peace will be with you.

*The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.*

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia!
I chose you from the world to go out and bear fruit,
fruit that will last, says the Lord.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL Matthew 21: 33 - 43

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew

Jesus said to the chief priests and the elders of the people, 'Listen to another parable. There was a man, a landowner, who planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug a winepress in it and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad. When vintage time drew near he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his produce. But the tenants seized his servants, thrashed one, killed another and stoned a third. Next he sent some more servants, this time a larger number, and they dealt with them in the same way. Finally he sent his son to them. "They will respect my son" he said. But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and take over his inheritance." So they seized him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?' They answered, 'He will bring those wretches to a wretched end and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will deliver the produce to him when the season arrives.' Jesus said to them,
'Have you never read in the scriptures:
It was the stone rejected by the builders that became the keystone.
This was the Lord's doing and it is wonderful to see?
'I tell you, then, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people that will produce its fruit.'

*The Gospel of the Lord.
Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.*

AFTER THE CONSECRATION

The mystery of faith.
Save us, Saviour of the world, for by your Cross and Resurrection you have set us free.

INVITATION TO HOLY COMMUNION

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter under my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

Though many, we are one bread, one body, for we all partake of the one Bread and one Chalice.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

Grant us, almighty God, that we may be refreshed and nourished by the Sacrament which we have received, so as to be transformed into what we consume.
Through Christ our Lord.

Jesus is in the Temple, addressing the chief priests and elders who are questioning his authority. With his parable of the wicked tenants, he issues a rebuke and a challenge to these religious leaders who believe they alone have authority.

The tenants in the parable are not fulfilling their responsibilities: instead of tending the vineyard entrusted to them, they are only looking after themselves.
If we think of the vineyard as our world, this parable jumps into the modern age. Humanity has been entrusted with this beautiful and bountiful world.
But instead of caring for it and sharing its fruits, those in power exploit it for their own benefit. We are called to care for this precious vineyard, Earth, our common home. This involves spiritual conversion and action.

Today we mark the end of the Season of Creation by celebrating the Feast of St Francis of Assisi. St Francis lived in harmony with creation, with a sense of wonder and praise for God's gift of life and the gift of creation. As well as helping the poor and sick, he cared deeply about all creatures on Earth, often preaching about animals and calling them 'brother' and 'sister', and inviting flowers to "praise the Lord". St Francis embraced a deep integral ecology, aware of just how deeply interconnected everything is. He showed us that care for creation is inseparable from justice for the poor and interior peace. He lived out this integral ecology joyfully, with an open heart. St Francis takes us to the heart of what it is to be human and invites us to profound interior conversion.
He challenges us to "see nature as a magnificent book in which God speaks to us and grants us a glimpse of his infinite beauty and goodness" (Laudato Si', §12).

We are called into this awareness so that we can begin to repair our broken relationship with the natural world, turn away from destruction and, feeling intimately connected to all that exists, care more deeply for our common home, this vineyard. The natural beauty and diversity of our planet call us into a deeper communion with the Earth and with God.

History Notes - Part 143:
THE WALLING OF ROSS

An old poem in Norman French was discovered in the National Library in London describing the building of the town walls of New Ross in medieval times. Sean Davy was commissioned by New Ross Singers to put the poem to music and it was performed by their choir. Fragments of this medieval wall are still intact, including a tall section on the steep hill at William Street and the mural tower at Ard-na-Greine. Another section of the wall can be traced bordering the old Christian Brothers property at Goat Hill. The poem describes this medieval building project and names the trades of the town which worked at it. The ladies of the town did their share of the work on Sundays! It appears that the major task was the digging of the fosse or ditch behind which the wall was built. The roadway at William Street in front of remaining old high wall gives a good idea of the huge task of creating this fosse. The town wall fell into disrepair over the centuries and was finally removed by the local authority in the 1800s. The remaining wall around Three Bullet Gate spanning the road at the top of Cross Street was repaired by the defenders of the town before the Battle of Ross in 1798. Courtesy of Jim Sutton
