The Parish Of Ballyhale - Knockmoylan

Knockmoylan, in Irish, Knuckmaelawn, belonged to the Walshs. Richard Walsh fitz James, of Knockmoylan was one of the Constables of the Barony of Knocktopher in 1608. Robert Walsh, of Knockmopylan Castle, apparently son of Richard fitz James married Eleanor Blanchville of Blanchvillewstown and died before the Cromwellian confiscations. Knockmoylan Castle fell to the ground around 1800. Its site is marked on the Ordnance Map, a little to the south of Knockmoylan village. It also marks 'St. Luke's Well' at the extreme southern point of Knockmoylan townland. Locally the well is called Luke's Well and tradition derives this name, not from St. Luke, but from a Luke Murphy who lived beside or owned the well about 1750. It is a holy well and a famous pattern was formerly held here on St. James' Day, July 25th. (to be continued…) Carrigan

In relation to this important Sacrament, starting in November, the last Thursday of the month in Ferrybank at 10.00am and the last Friday of the month at 10.00am in Slieverue, a special Mass of the Sick including anointing will be celebrated.

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

A Victory for the Generations

What an extraordinary few days it has been for Durrow and Cullohill! The celebrations following the historic victory last Sunday will live long in the memories of everyone associated with the club and our two communities. And deservedly so. Sixty-two years after Cullohill's great win and forty-two years since the Harps was formed, the dream of winning a Senior County Championship has finally been realised.

But amidst all the excitement and celebrations, I found myself thinking about another group of people: those who would have loved to see this day but are no longer with us.

A few weeks ago, while working with priests in Mayo, I was struck by how often people spoke about their county's great All-Ireland victory, not simply in terms of the present generation, but of parents, grandparents and generations of supporters who had gone before them. People who followed their team through good times and bad, who dreamed of such a day but never lived to see it.

I suspect there were similar thoughts in many hearts and homes around Durrow and Cullohill last Sunday. How many former players, parents, grandparents and lifelong supporters would have given anything to witness that final whistle? Some now have sons, grandsons or even great-grandsons among this extraordinary group of young men. Their contribution to Sunday's victory may not appear in any match report, but surely it is part of the story.

As we approach November, the month when we traditionally remember our dead, there is something particularly appropriate this year about remembering those who helped build and sustain the clubs down through the generations. We inherit far more than a name or a place. We inherit traditions, loyalties, friendships and dreams. Sometimes, without even realising it, we find ourselves completing something that others began long before us.

This Sunday's Gospel reminds us of the great commandment to love God and to love our neighbour. Perhaps one of the loveliest expressions of that love is the sense of community, belonging and generosity that occasions like last Sunday bring to the surface.

Despite my Camross roots, and the shock and disappointment being felt in the foothills of the Sliabh Blooms, seeing the joy this victory has brought to the people among whom I now live and serve has been something very special indeed.

So, congratulations to every member of The Harps family. Enjoy this wonderful achievement. And somewhere in the celebrations, spare a thought for those who would have loved to be there. This victory belongs to them too.

Fr. Martin

Prayer for Missionaries

Lord our God, loving Father, we humbly pray to you for our beloved missionaries, heralds of the Gospel.
May our prayers reach their hearts that they may feel our love, our strength, our faith.
May our prayers reach their hearts that they continue with your zeal the mission you entrust them with. May their presence in their community be a reminder of your presence among us. Amen.

Prayers for Pope Leo

Many of us were moved last Sunday when Pope Leo shared, simply and calmly, that doctors had found a small growth on his lung. On Tuesday he had surgery at Rome's Gemelli Hospital, where part of his right lung was removed. The Vatican has since confirmed it was an early-stage lung cancer, and that the operation went well, without complications. He is expected to rest in hospital for about a week, his audiences have been cancelled until 20th October, and he still hopes to make his journey to South America in November.

Let us pray for our Holy Father this week, along with everyone in our own parish facing illness and treatment.

Lord Jesus, Divine Healer,
we place our Holy Father, Pope Leo, in your loving care.
Guide the hands of his doctors and nurses,
grant him rest, strength and peace,
and restore him to full health,
that he may continue to shepherd your people with joy.
Mary, Health of the Sick, pray for him. Amen.

Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time (Mission Sunday) - 18th October 2026

We Celebrate 100 Years of World Mission Sunday!

This World Mission Sunday marks the 100th anniversary of its establishment by Pope Pius XI in 1926. This centenary is an opportunity to celebrate with renewed missionary zeal. Last year, Pope Leo XIV made an appeal to us in a personal video for World Mission Sunday. His request echoed around the world: "Please help me help missionaries everywhere." That's what World Mission Sunday does: it helps Pope Leo care for the 1,130 missionary dioceses and territories under his supervision through the Dicastery for Evangelization. We are all called to be a part of this missionary work, and we have a singular means to do so: World Mission Sunday.

The second collection we take up today helps extend the Church's evangelisation work to missionary lands where the Gospel is being proclaimed for the first time, as well as to places where the Church barely exists, or is too young, too persecuted, or too poor to sustain herself. Thank you for responding to Pope Leo's call to help him help missionaries everywhere!

"What Does God Want from the Church in Ireland at this Time?"

The Working Document for the Irish National Synodal Assembly, which took place in Gormanston, Co. Meath, on Saturday 17th October 2026, has been published. Entitled "Is not this what God asks of you?" the document brings together the fruits of five years of prayer, listening and discernment along the Irish Synodal Pathway. It formed the basis for the prayer, conversation, discernment and deliberation of delegates as they participated in the National Synodal Assembly on Saturday.

But this is not a document for Assembly delegates only. The Working Document belongs within the wider journey of the Irish Synodal Pathway and reflects the voices, hopes, concerns and discernment of people and communities from across the Church in Ireland. We therefore invite everyone to read it, pray with it and reflect on the question that has accompanied the Synodal Pathway from the beginning.

Visit https://www.catholicbishops.ie/ to read the full document.

"Money Can't Buy Me Love"

A priest was speaking to a Sunday school class about the things money can't buy. "It can't buy laughter and it can't buy love" he told them. And driving home his point, he said, "What would you do if I offered you €1000 not to love your mother and father?" A stunned silence followed. And finally, a small boy raised his hand and asked, "Father, how much would you give me not to love my big sister?"
