NOVEMBER DEAD LIST

In November we remember our dead relatives, friends and past parishioners. Fr Stephen will offer Mass & Prayers each day for the dead of our Parish. We are particularly encouraging families to come and attend Mass together.

We would like each family to recall the names of the dead and place them on the November Dead List, which they can find in the porch of the Church.
It is traditional that a stipend is offered, but this is not a requirement for the dead of your families to be remembered, this is simply an offering to Fr Stephen for the Masses celebrated throughout the month of November.

Our Remembrance Mass for our parishioners who have passed away this year will be held on Friday 27th November at 7pm

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May their souls and the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen

PPC News: Holywood Parish Pastoral Council invite you to a talk by Kevin Bell Repatriation Trust on Thursday 5th Nov at 7pm in the Church. The Kevin Bell Repatriation Trust provides practical and emotional support to families who have lost a loved one aboard. They help with the repatriation of the deceased and offer guidance, care and assistance throughout the process, at a very difficult time. Everyone is welcome to the talk. A collection for the Kevin Bell Repatriation Trust will be taken up on the night.

Sunday Message

THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THE WORD

Year A • 25 October 2026 • Colour: Green • Psalter Week 2

The Pharisees prided themselves on strict observance of the law. So meticulous were they in keeping it, they had worked out that the biblical law contained 365 negative commandments (one 'thou shalt not' for every day of the year) and 248 positive commandments (one for every bone in the human body).

In addition to this written law, they believed that God had given Moses another set of laws that weren't written down but were passed down by an unbroken chain from Moses to them.

Some Pharisees taught that every commandment was to be observed with the same attention to detail. Others taught that the commandments ranged from serious to relatively minor. This debate provides the background to today's Gospel. By asking Jesus' opinion, his opponents are also inviting him to line up on one side or the other in the debate.

Jesus answers by quoting a verse from the Book of Deuteronomy that every member of his audience would know (Dt. 6:5). It was part of the prayer they said twice each day, the Shema Yisrael ('Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one...'). He then adds a verse that 'resembles this' – the command to love your neighbour as yourself (Leviticus 18:2). On these two verses, he says, hang the whole of the Law and the Prophets, that is, God's entire revelation to his people. This is the law that matters. ■

DO

This week visit someone who is lonely or who lives alone.

SAY

"Lord, help me to love you and my neighbour to the best of my ability."

PRAY

Pray for your parish community, that all will grow in love of God and one another.

LEARN

Love of God and neighbour is the mark of the Christian

At the heart of our faith is that knowledge that God loves us without reservation

REFLECT

We use the word 'love' with easy abandon today. Think of the casual way we throw it around. We love our bed, our favourite TV soap, our new shoes. We love salt with our chips, sugar in our tea, and a trip to the cinema. I love everything that's bad for me, according to my cardiologist. Love is desire, obsession, addiction, commitment, lust, service; love is whatever we want it to be.

But if we Christians want to know what love truly is, we need only look to God. God is love, St John tells us. God not only loves, God is love. And where there is love, there is God.

In her book Reading Genesis, Marilynne Robinson points out that this Godly love is what distinguished the God of Israel from other Middle Eastern gods of antiquity. The Babylonians and others believed in multiple gods; Abraham and his descendants were unique in being monotheists, in believing there is but one God, who had created them in God's very own image. We are not images of angels or lesser gods but of the creator himself. This was a radical way of thinking.

The other gods of antiquity were remote, distant, and indifferent to the happenings here on earth. The God of Genesis is a benign God who forgives Cain for the murder of his own brother, forgives his people time and again, and is personally invested in them, unlike the apathetic or vengeful gods that other peoples worshipped. Israel's God is slow to anger, rich in mercy, abiding in love.

God, Robinson says, has a lofty view of humankind, expressed poetically in Psalm 8: "What is man that you are mindful of him? Yet you have made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honour."

God loves, and God is love. But, when we say this, we're not describing an up in the sky kind of love. We're describing the kind of concrete love that Jesus showed.

People practise this kind of love every day. Think of parents who care for children with special needs. Or grandparents who pick up the pieces when their child's marriage collapses. Or groups like the St Vincent de Paul, who help the most needy. All of these put love into practice every day.

I like to break down the great commandment into its three parts. We are to:

* love ourselves. Healthy self-love comes from knowing I am made in God's own image. Healthy self-love is not the same as selfishness or narcissism. It is to see myself the way God sees me, as one made in God's own image. Therefore, I am unique, lovable, irreplaceable. Many of us find it hard to love ourselves. Young people, influenced by social media, find it so hard to love themselves. But if we are to love God and others, we must learn to love ourselves.

* love our neighbour. To love is to will the good of another. It is to go out of our way for others. "Feed the poor." That's love. "Break bread with those no one will sit with." That's love. "Respond with patience to someone who gets on my nerves." That's love. Love of neighbour means never being bystanders. More than anything else, God will judge us on whether we loved others.

* love God. God created us out of love, and sustains us lovingly each day. We return God's love through a life of prayer, worship and good works.

St Paul instructed the Ephesians to 'live a life of love.' Three little words beginning with the letter L. Easy to remember. Hard to do. That's how we keep the great commandment. ■
