Sunday Scriptures - First Reading - This sings the praise of wisdom. At the same time it says that wisdom can be found by all those who seek it.

Second Reading - St Paul consoles his converts at Thessalonika who are worried about the fate of their loved ones who have died. He tells them that God will rise them up as surely as he raised up Christ.

Gospel - A story which urges us to stay awake because we do not know the day or the hour of the Lord's coming.

SUNDAY REFLECTION - As we approach the end of the Church's liturgical year, the readings are mostly from those sections of scripture called apocalyptic. This is a very symbolic style of writing. Numbers and colours all have a symbolic meaning. It is frequently full of cosmic images including sun, moon and stars. It is a very vivid style of writing which is geared to evoke a response in those who read it. - St Paul's Sunday Missal

EDGEWORTHSTOWN PARISH WEBSITE:

And for our Children - Agus ar son ár leanaí - A fun way for Catholic children to learn about their Faith every week:
The Kids' Bulletins, updated each week onto our Parish Website front page, are a resource for Catholic children who would like to have some fun while learning about the readings from the Sunday Mass every week.
They are made by a mom in Canada who is happy to share them with anyone who can use them to help learn or teach about the truth and beauty of the Faith.

Pope Leo: - "God's generosity towards us is not naïve but wise. He sees within us the potential of a good that, at times, we ourselves might fail to recognize. For this reason, the Lord, who knows the soil of our hearts better than we, never ceases to believe in us - in who we are and in who we can become, day by day, if we entrust ourselves to him in faith."

Readers and Eucharistic Ministers - As a recent meeting of Mostrim Parish Pastoral Council the rotas for Readers and Eucharistic Minsters were reviewed. We are very grateful to all who generously participate in these ministries of sharing God's Word and Holy Communion. We would love to have some more people involved to enhance our rotas and share the responsibility.

Could you assist - please?

We would be delighted to hear from you if you could volunteer to read at Mass or become a Minister of the Eucharist. Please consider this invitation. If you are in a position to say yes, please contact us at 71046 or edgeworthstownparish@gmail.com

• Thought for Today •

Often we light candles as a sign of remembering and as we light the candle we say a prayer for that person that they may be enjoying the marvelous light of heaven. The candle light reminds us that we too have the opportunity to share the light of hope, that we carry, with others. When you are in a dark place, the warmth of a smile or a king word can mean a lot. It may feel that our own light is very small and insignificant in times of much darkness but each time it is shared, it is not halved but doubled. Together we really can make a difference. - Artofdyingwell.org

32nd Sunday of the Year

'Stay awake'

Every year thousands of motorists seek roadside assistance because they have run out of fuel and this despite the fact that all modern cars have warning lights and messages to alert us to any malfunction. In truth, there is no excuse for running out of fuel. It is a question of remaining vigilant and attentive. The five wise virgins in today's parable fall into this category. They are watchful and prepared for the arrival of the bridegroom. The five foolish virgins are not, and they are excluded from the wedding celebrations. The message is clear. The disciple must stay awake. The disciple must remain watchful. The disciple must keep the lamp lit. It is easy to keep the lamp lit when the road is smooth and the sea is calm. The trial comes when the storm rages and the bridegroom is absent, but the disciple must stay awake. What does this mean in practice then? English author Richard Evans provides a striking answer to this question when he writes about the danger of putting things off: 'There are mothers who plan to enjoy their daughters more, but they keep putting it off. There are fathers who plan to get to know their sons better, but they keep putting it off. There are husbands and wives who plan to spend more time together, to strengthen their marriage bond, but they keep putting it off. When in the world are we going to live as if we understood that this is life? This is our time, our day and it is passing.' Unlike the foolish virgins, we should use our time well, because it is the anvil on which eternity is forged. 'We should live our lives as though Christ was coming this afternoon'. (Jimmy Carter).
