STEP BY STEP THROUGH THE MASS

The Liturgy of the Eucharist (Part 6)

We have seen how the mingling of the water into the wine in the chalice evokes for us the union we should have, and should aspire to ever increasingly have, with Jesus. It can be an important moment for us to once again examine our conscience: “The Water and the Wine are now in an inseparable union in that chalice. Are my heart and mind, is my soul, in an equally inseparable union with Christ Jesus as I participate in this Mass? Additionally, if the Wine in the Chalice represents Christ’s offering of himself; and the water represents my human offering, what am I bringing to this Mass today? Obviously, Christ’s prayer is greater than mine; His praise of the Heavenly Father more perfect than mine; his love for God and Neighbour (shown by the outpouring of his Blood on the Cross) greater than my love. But what I do offer, meagre as it is, I offer through Jesus, with Jesus and in Jesus.

Perhaps I carry in my heart to this Mass some person or situation in my life that needs God’s grace or intervention. As I see the water added to the wine, I can remember that I place what is in and on my heart into and upon the Heart of Jesus now – my prayer mingles with his, my intentions he takes upon himself to present it all before the Face of the Heavenly Father. All of this, and more, can be set before our minds at this brief moment when the Water is mixed into the Wine.

Once the chalice has been offered (with the accompanying offertory prayer), the priest then bows low and quietly prays the following prayer on his behalf and on behalf of those participating at the Mass: “With humble spirit and contrite heart may we be accepted by you, O Lord, and may our sacrifice in your sight this day be pleasing to you, Lord God.” This brief prayer is an acknowledgment of his and our unworthiness and need for repentance as we spiritually and really approach the Heavenly Father in this Mass. The words “sacrifice in your sight” remind us that the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass gives us privileged and unparalleled access to God the Father. Which is why our ancestors, (who knew these truths, though perhaps they would not have been able to articulate them in theological terms), would move heaven and earth to be physically present at Mass – even if for generations during persecution their presence meant risking life and limb just to be at Mass. How sad it is then that so many, physically fit and healthy people, now cannot motivate themselves to get out of bed on any given Sunday to make their appointment with the Living God at Mass.
